The Governor's Offer.

In a certain prison suppose we find a young man condemned to death; he doesn't seem to care, spending the flying hours in jollity and mirth. One day the kind governor of the state comes, and offers to pardon him. "I will give you work in my garden; build you a fine house, furnish you a physician free when sick; and see that you want nothing," he says. But the man bursts out with a topical song and will hear nothing of it. At last the governor gives it up, as he goes away he says, "But think, you are condemned to death. The time is set; and if you don't accept my offer you will be hanged by the neck until you are dead. Come, be reasonable. Why will you die, when you need not?" But the young man says rudely, "Who made you governor, anyhow? Let me be can't you. I'll think of your offer sometime; not now. I'm interested in the work of that spider over there." At the door the governor turns and gazes at the young man, but he pettishly turns his back and the iron door clangs shut, seeming to say, "Abandon hope, all ye who enter here." Time flies, and the sheriff at last reads the death warrant to the prisoner. Then he wakes up! He calls in agony for the jailer. "Send for the governor, quick. I want the pardon he promised me." The jailer laughs jeeringly. "Too late, young man. You rejected his offer, and deeply insulted him, too. Besides, he is at the other side of the country far from any telegraph stations; and I couldn't reach him in four days, and to-morrow you die."

"Oh! oh!" means the youth. "Fool that I was to let such a chance slip!"

"Why," says the jailer, "didn't you know it was the governor? Didn't you believe him?"

"Yes; but I thought that there was plenty of time. I always intended to accept the offer; but I didn't think there was any hurry."

"Well," says the jailer, "I can't help you. You are condemned. There sits the death watch. You refused the pardon once; and the death-warrant was signed accordingly." And on the morrow the sentence executed. What you blame that young man and called him a lunatic? Well isn't that the very way that hundreds of young men and women are treating Jesus Christ today? You know that it is so. He has offered you a free pardon; health that dreams not of pain or weariness; happiness forever; a mansion in heaven and life everlasting but like Felix you said, "Go thy way for this time; at a more convenient season I will send for Thee;" and you saw with careless eyes the iron door swing to; but I pray that your number is few. Take that offer, quick, young man. Let all the world wait; but get that first.

Cumberland, Md.

Evil of White Lies.

The great evil of falsifying lies in the small things—in slightly modifying the details to interests or amuse others or to gratify personal vanity. *** Not only is there untruthfulness in society and in business, but there is more or less of it in religion. There is a good deal of lying in our public prayers. We have all heard preachers and others tell the Lord things we knew were not so.—Rev. Dr. J. L. Jackson, Baptist Chicago.

Are Your Days all Sunshine.

If the days were all sunshine would we know how to appreciate such a blessing? Let the sun put on her dark veil which covers her face for weeks, then when the veil is raised and the sun shines forth once more, we appreciate it.

So it is if we know God and love him and appreciate His blessings we must suffer for Him. When the first start on our heavenly road, the way is dark and the road rugged. How dark the hour of conviction when our sins are to us an open book. When we see how we have spent the past few days in darkness and in sin. But now we leave and go to work in the harvest field of God's mercy.

"You began to glean in the field of divine promise and you had more than you could carry." God addresses you saying, "Blessed is the man whose transgressions are forgiven and whose sins are covered." There will be dark hours. We will have to ford the river and climb the steep, rugged mountains, but if we trust in Jesus we will find "His yoke is easy and his burden is light." Think of the scolding poor Noah had to suffer while he was making the ark, and when he had finished the ark he went forth telling the people of the flood, asking and urging them to come into the ark.

At last the Lord closed the door of the ark and no man could open it. When the rain began to descend it was then the people thought of what Noah had told them. No doubt large crowds went to the ark after the rain began to descend, but they came too late. The door was closed.

I urge all Christians to work in God's harvest field and be as faithful as Noah. Let all labor for our Master until all the golden grain is harvested.—Ex.

Sent to Death by Caprice of a Woman.

History is replete with incidents of men risking their lives and often losing them at the caprice of women. Many of the fairer sex demand that their lovers must prove their devotion by deed of daring undertaking. So it has been since the dawn of history, and so it will doubtless continue to be till the end of time.

A recent fatal duel with swords in Bavaria was the direct consequence of a woman's foolish wish to test the valor of her lover. Herr Corper. The young lady considered that a certain army officer, Captain Heinrich Scheller, had treated her with rudeness at a ball, and when during the same evening Herr Corper asked her to become his wife he declared that she would consent on one condition, that her lover challenge the insolent duelist and punish him for his affront.

The gallant young wooer sought out the captain and when he refused to give satisfaction struck him violently in the face, calling him a coward and a disgrace to the army. This insult left the captain no alternative. A duel was forthwith arranged for the following morning, when Corper received a mortal wound, paying for his foolish gallantry with his life.

The Semi-Weekly Journal, Atlanta, Ga., has inaugurated an agents' contest for the months of January and February, 1902. They are going to divide among their agents $180 in cash to be paid on the first of March, $50 being the first prize. In December they gave $100 to fifteen agents. For terms and information address The Semi-Weekly Journal, Atlanta, Ga.

Another Editor's House.

So much has been said about the new house we are going to build on our farm in the edge of town that we feel an explanation is due. In the first place, it is not to cost $50,000, or half that sum. It is not true that we did we were going to have the finest house in the state. The facts are these: We asked our wife one day if she wouldn't like a nine room cottage with real plastering on the walls, a cistern, and a large front hall, with a stairway curving gracefully up to the second floor; and she said all she wanted was a good roomy shack with plenty of closets, a big pantry, and a place where she could split the kindling without the neighbors seeing her. We may add that no change has been made in the plans then suggested, and there has been no further conversation about the matter. We will also state that we are not thinking of building a house. We couldn't raise the seeds to build a one-story chicken coop, let alone a $50,000 mansion. We haven't got a farm, either, here or anywhere else. If we had, we'd go and live on it, or we'd sell and use the money in getting out of this darn town, where half the people read our paper by borrowing it, and the other half take the paper and don't pay for it. That ought to hold these people who have been talking about us for awhile.—Hickory Ridge Missouri.

A Terrible Warning.

A man who was too economical to take a paper, sent his little boy to borrow the copy taken by his neighbor. In his haste the boy ran over a four dollar stand of bees and in ten minutes looked like a "watery summer squash." His cries reached his father, who ran to his assistance and, failing to see a barb wire fence, ran into it, breaking it down, cutting a handful of flesh from his anatomy and ruining a four dollar pair of pants. The old cow took advantage of the gap in the fence, got into the corn field and killed herself eating green corn. Hearing the racket, his wife ran, upsetting a churn full of rich cream into a basket of kittens drowning the whole flock. In her hurry, she dropped a set of seven dollar false teeth. The baby left alone, crawled through the spilled milk into the parlor and ruined a twenty dollar carpet. During the excitement, the oldest daughter ran away with the hired man, the dog broke up eleven setting hens, the calves got out and chewed the tails off of four fine thoroughbred colts.—Selected.

Valdosta Times: A report comes from Echols county of the novel method at revenge which a negro there took to get even with an unfaithful wife. It seems that he discovered a few days ago that his wife had a paramour. He confronted her with the facts and attempted to punish her, when her dusky lover, Sim West, crawled from a place of concealment and threw the husband to the floor. They then administered a terrible whipping to the indignant, but helpless man and left. Williams told several negroes that if his wife returned he would destroy all of his property and kill himself. She returned, accompanied by West, who threatened to burn Williams alive if he injured the woman. That night Williams took his razor and cut the throat of his mule, two pigs and a possum dog; wrung the necks of nine domestic chickens and cut his own throat. West and the woman are missing.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, APRIL 4, 1902.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

On May 20th Cuba will be set free.

This week Rome had a Baptist convention and a lynching.

A stolen pair of shoes cost a negro one hundred dollars at Oxford Ga., last week.

Gov. Gordon has been re-elected president of the Georgia Baptist convention.

Senator Hanna states that he is in no sense a candidate for the presidential nomination.

The Georgia College of Electric Medicine in Atlanta, turned out 21 new doctors last week.

Receivers in some portions of Georgia have already commenced receiving tax returns.

Col. Ham, of Gainesville, it is thought will step into the senatorial race of that district.

The damage from floods last week in central Mississippi will reach a million dollars.

Mississippi was swept by one of the most destructive floods last week in the state's history.

At the Nelson mine in Tennessee last Monday an explosion occurred, killing 22 men and crippling 8.

J. L. Healan announces for reelection to the office of tax receiver. Mr. Healan's acts show that he has made a good officer.

While Rob Williamson and Jim Thomas were on the war path in Fannin county the other day, they killed John Ballow's cow and then went and shot at his dog in the yard.

J. E. Walden announces for tax collector in this issue. Mr. Walden came within four votes of getting the office before and if elected will make a good official.

Miles Crane of Dawson county, was given two years at hard labor in the new federal prison in Atlanta last week for having been found guilty of violating the Internal revenue laws frequently.

President Roosevelt vetoed the bill last week passed by congress allowing deserters to draw pensions, which has the hearty approval of every democrat and many republicans throughout the country.

Sallio Hix, charged with murdering Sallio Simpson in Banks county, was tried recently and acquitted. B. P. Gaillard, Jr., formerly of Dahlonega, was one of the three attorneys who defended this woman.

Court will be convened at Gainesville next week to try Sloyer and Pirkie, charged with the murder of Mrs. Blake in that city recently. Col. W. B. Sloan will represent the defendants and Col. Howard Thompson will assist Solicitor Charters in the prosecution.

The reason we favor Mr. Beck for state school commissioner is because it will be to our interest and to every other citizen in Georgia to get a man to fill this position who favors a uniform system of text books like this gentleman. It will greatly reduce the price of books and save the patrons of schools in Georgia thousands of dollars annually.

Through Col. F. P. Dupree we learn that Gen. Warner is negotiating for the Etowah river shoals property just below town and if he succeeds in securing the property he will construct a mammoth electric plant here. Mr. Warner contemplates the construction of an electric railway from Cartersville to Gainesville via Canton, and also be prepared to furnish power and lights for various manufacturing plants and towns along the line. In the opinion of the Advance this would be one grand step along the lines of progress and development for this section and we hope soon to announce the movement as a certainty.—Cherokee Advance.

Mining Notes.

Some good ore is being taken out on the Lumpkin property.

There will be a much larger production of gold in Lumpkin county this year than last and many before it.

Wharton Anderson is continuously working the placer diggings of the Calhoun property with a big profit. This is one of the best mines in the whole country.

Encouraging news comes direct from Toledo, O., about the Syndicate and Standard Co's owning property in and about Dahlonega. The former has transferred its property to the latter, $10,000 in cash has been subscribed and work will commence here at once.

Since the managers of the Syndicate have taken charge of the Hall property and the natives allowed to prospect and work it, numerous valuable veins have been opened up at various places, thus benefitting the laborers and developing the property.

We understand that more new hands will be added down at the Hand as soon as they get their air compressor in good shape again—the worn pieces ordered have not been received yet. Although with the crippled machinery the mine has been running right along.

The work of turning Cane Creek down at the Gordon by Roberts and Chester is progressing, which will require some three weeks of favorable weather to do the work, then they will be able to work a quarter of a mile of the bed of this rich stream. We are told by men who tested it years ago that they could pan out the gold with their shovels which gives some idea of its richness.

The Crown Mountain pump has been repaired and the plant started up again on Monday morning, everything working like a charm. It is the sixth time the big gear wheel to the pump has broke causing expensive delays. The wheel this time is heavier and apparently of better material and it is hoped that no more trouble will occur for they have just entered the mountain proper where there is plenty of gold and we want to see them get it out. But for fear of an accident the managers ordered an extra wheel which is now on the way.

Mr. Packard of the Turkey Hill Mine, spent a few hours in the city last Tuesday. Mr. Packard is a jovial, good hearted gentleman and we are always glad to see him come. Now that spring has opened he is going to resume operation by putting in a hydraulic lift and work his placer diggings. His mine adjoins the celebrated Calhoun property where they are operating in the same manner and been taking out, so it is said, more than a thousand pennyweights of gold each month which is enough to encourage Mr. Packard in the undertaking. We wish him success as well as other like enterprises where legitimate work is carried on.

Notwithstanding there are large quantities of valuable soapstone this Lumpkin county none of the state geologists have ever mentioned it in any of their reports. It seems to have escaped their notice, quite likely because it is several miles from town and belongs to a non-resident of the state who is never here when these officials visit us to show them around like others do having mineral property in this section. This soapstone is located in the eastern portion of the county, owned by F. H. Kennedy of North Carolina. The quarry has been opened for years and much of it taken out for hearths, the places and other purposes. The window sills of the Price building came from this place, and there is abundance more left.

We heard a gentleman say the other day that there was ample enough to last for forty years to come. So you see we haven't received credit for even all the valuable minerals discovered in this county. But they are here and show for themselves.

Brother Hackney, of the Blue Ridge Post, has commenced a monthly publication devoted exclusively to sinseng culture.

Fair-View church near Nelson, Ga., was completely demolished by the storm Friday night and a number of roofs were blown from other buildings.

L. B. Jones, who was the president of a bank at Cordelle, was found guilty last week of embezzlement (use to be called stealing) to the tune of $45,000 and fined $1,000 and costs or in lieu to serve in the chain gang 12 months.

At a meeting of the state democratic executive committee in Atlanta last week it was decided to hold the primary for governor and state house officers on the 5th of June. Chairman DuBignon resigned and Hon E. T. Brown was unanimously elected in his place.

At Pittsburg Sunday just before noon a cyclone demolished a Presbyterian church during services and about 40 persons injured, a number of them seriously. At Jamestown, Pa., another Presbyterian church was destroyed and the preacher killed. On Friday evening of the same day a cyclone swept through Tennessee and the damage is believed to be $4,000,000. At Isabella, Ala., the same evening at 4 o'clock one struck the place and blew down houses, churches, fences and everything else in its path. The Methodist and Baptist churches were wrecked, the roof of the latter was blown off landing 100 hundred yards away. The damages there amount to thousands of dollars.

How To Gain Flesh

Persons have been known to gain a pound a day by taking an ounce of SCOTT'S EMULSION. It is strange, but it often happens.

Somewhat the ounce produces the pound; it seems to start the digestive machinery going properly, so that the patient is able to digest and absorb his ordinary food, which he could not do before, and that is the way the gain is made.

A certain amount of flesh is necessary for health; if you have not got it you can get it by taking

A Medicine for Old People.

Rev. Geo. Gay, Greenwich, Kas., is past 83 years of age, yet he says, "I am enjoying excellent health for a man of my age, due entirely to the rejuvenating influence of Dr. Miles' Nerve Tonic. It brings sleep and rest when nothing else will, and gives strength and vitality even to one of my old age."

"I am an old soldier," writes Mr. Geo. Watson, Newton, Ia., "and I have been a great sufferer from nervousness, vertigo and spinal trouble. Have spent considerable money for medicine and doctors, but with little benefit. I was so low my mind showed signs of weakness. Hereafter taking Dr. Miles' Nerve Tonic, I know it saved my life."

Dr. Miles' Nerve Tonic. Send me from the inside, say, "Mrs. A. M. Hulmer, of Jerico Springs, Mo., writes: 'I was so nervous that I could scarcely control myself, could not sleep nor rest, would even forget the names of my own children at times. I commenced using Dr. Miles' Nerve Tonic and it helped me from the first, and now I am perfectly well.'"

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, APRIL 4, 1902.

Light frost this (Thursday) morning.

Mrs. J. B. Housley has purchased the John Wood house and lot located near her premises.

The new bell for the Presbyterian church at this place has been ordered and is now at Gainesville.

Mr. Breyman is expected in to-day for the purpose of putting the mining ball to rolling.

The Sunday prospectors moved their places of business last Sabbath in the vicinity of Crane's Hill.

One blockader Sunday night after selling out his jug and sack under Harve Andersons shop where it was found the next morning.

The Gainesville and Dahlonega mail schedule changed last Tuesday. It will leave for the next two months at 8 o'clock instead of 7.

Ellis Woody died down near the Barlow mine last Sunday of pneumonia fever after being sick less than three days. The deceased was a step-son of Derrian Chambers.

The very interesting Texas letter of A. W. Cain will appear next week. We, together with every one else in this county are always proud to get to read one of them and would be glad for him to write oftener.

Some one has been using the city clock at Carrollton for a target. This reminds us of many years ago in Dahlonega, when those feeling like it would step up in front of the court house and shoot at the door.

The prettiest coat and pants suits ever brought to Dahlonega are at Andersons & Jones and are from one to three dollars cheaper per suit than other peoples. Low prices always explain why we lead the clothing trade.

ANDERSON & JONES.

Instructions were given to the postmaster at Auraria Ga., last week not to receive the mail from McKee if Mr. Anderson at that place had the small pox. Upon an investigation it was found that he did have the small pox but resided in a different building to that in which the postoffice is kept.

During a runaway last Tuesday while Cadet Elkins and Miss Annie Burt were out on a pleasure drive the buggy was turned over near Pimp Moores residence and the young lady seriously injured by the dislocation of her left arm and right knee and shook up generally. The young man escaped uninjured.

The cows about New Bridge, in this county, are supposed to be going mad. Several have died recently. They keep up a continuous howling and hoot at chickens, hogs, cows sheep and everything else that comes within their reach except people, and when tied surge strong enough to break big chains.

East, who escaped from the federal prison in Atlanta recently is said to have been seen some where in Georgia wearing a dress. It may be like Sallie Hix, the female murderer from Banks county who was said to have been in White county wearing trousers and two pistols, but it turned out to be false when she was arrested in another state.

The following new cases have been filed in the clerks office of the Superior Court of Lumpkin county, to-wit: P. B. Peterman vs. Crown Mountain G. M. Co.—Complaint. John A. Smith Manufacturing Co. vs. Dahlonega Drug Co.—Complaint. Elias H. Grizzle vs. Mary E. Grizzle.—Libel for divorce. Martin Wehnt vs. Sallie Wehnt.—Libel for divorce. S. G. Proffitt vs. H. C. Mooney.—Complaint. First National Bank of Gainesville vs. Howard Shelton, J. B. Shelton and C. W. Shelton.—Complaint.

Go and see those nice spring goods at J. F. Moores.

Deputy postmaster J. E. Tate is agent for the Atlanta Journal.

Rev. J. W. Rider has moved his mercantile business to Dahlonega.

J. J. McCabe and W. D. Chamberlain, of Ohio, are here looking over the mining field.

Judge Murray, president of the Gainesville & Dahlonega Electric Railway Co., arrived in the city last Tuesday.

The storm Friday night crippled the telephone line here, rendering it useless until some repairs were made.

Rev. D. J. Blackwell, pastor of the Presbyterian church here, will preach next Sunday out at Garland—Parks store.

This week the John A. Smith Manufacturing Co., of Gainesville, Ga., purchased from Joseph Rickets his house and lot at Last Chance near the cemetery.

Ed Corn, who recently recovered from small pox in this county, was in the city last week full of scars. A person seeing him will cease calling it a mild disease.

Mountain cabbage sold in Dahlonega this week at two cents per pound. Nice white headed cabbage would be a rare thing at this season of the year in many countries.

Uncle John Gambin of Nimblewill district, informed us last Monday that the storm of Friday night at his house was very severe, hail falling big enough on the mountain to split the boards of houses.

Postmaster Bracket of Auraria, has been given a certificate to the effect that his brother Bill is well of the small pox and that all danger is over and he expects to take charge of the office again this week.

Geo. Jenkins, the night watchman elected to serve until the middle of this month, resigned first of the month to accept a position with the Consolidated Co., and no one has as yet been appointed to serve in his place.

Tax Collector Frank Wimpy has made his final settlement and this is what the comptroller says in a letter to him: "Please accept my thanks for your good work as collector, and for your promptness in making reports and settlements."

Persons who hang big heavy sign boards across the side walks should bear in mind that it endangers the lives of people, who would do well to quit it before some one is either hurt or killed by them and the town sued for damages.

The other night as a negro foder thief was running off from Ed McDonalds premises he received a load of small shot in his flesh through the bosom of his pants, causing him to renew his speed and yelp like a scalded dog till he got out of hearing.

The other morning while Jesse McDonald was milking his fine cow she kicked the milk all over him. The old man picked up a piece of iron, hit the animal across the neck and he will not be troubled with milking that cow any more for his lick ended her career and she felt to kick no more.

Our city was visited by W. G. Candler, his wife and Col. Lusk, of Buncombe county, N. C., and during the time Mr. Candler gave the Nugget office a pleasant call and renewed his subscription to the same until June, 1903. They left on Tuesday afternoon and we trust that all reached their homes in safety, and that they will return again some time in the near future.

Tuesday was Field Day and the college boys passed away the time in racing, jumping and various other amusements which interested all lovers of this kind of sport, while some of the ladies engaged in target practice with pistols. Several of the boys were hurt, Gas Byers being the worst who fell while rolling a wheelbarrow blindfolded, cutting an ugly gash across his nose.

The department is being asked to establish a postoffice at the Dahlonega Camp Ground with Joseph Moose as its postmaster.

That blockader made his usual visit to Dahlonega last Sunday, and disposed of enough liquor to make some stop like they were walking on a running train.

W. R. Hightower, a son of W. J. Hightower, of this place, has accepted a position again in the large mercantile establishment of Miller Bros., Chattanooga, Tenn.

J. W. Eaton, of Canton, Ga., who has been the night watch for the Crown Mountain Co. for some time went to that place last Sunday to visit his family.

Last Sunday was beautiful and religious services were largely attended. Some went for the good of the cause, some to exhibit their new hats and others to see and be seen.

James Witt left last Monday for McCay, Tenn., where he is looking around with a view, we understand, of going into business. Jim use to live there and understands the country and knows the people well.

Some days ago G. McGuire sent an endorsed check down to Gainesville by his colored driver, and before he could have it cashed some negro stole it and a pistol from the driver and went to the bank and satisfied the cashier that he was McGuires driver and got the money.

In the upper portion of this county there are three postoffices close together—Gates, Willow and Walnut, and it is believed by some that Gates will be abolished and connections made by the carrier so the patrons of the other two can get their mail from Dahlonega and Cleveland at least twice a week.

Very often when girls are given dollar boxes of candy by their sweethearts and soda water and ice cream to eat and drink and frequent buggy rides after the wedding they have to eat turnip salad, drink spicewood tea and walk everywhere they go or stay at home and nurse the crying baby.

The three weeks services at the M. E. church closed last Sunday night and the Presiding Elder left for his home Monday morning. There were five accessions to the church, besides other good being accomplished. If any one fails to take the proper course it will not be the fault of the pastor, for he has certainly done all he could do to save them.

A strange negro man and a woman he claimed as his wife spent last Sunday in Dahlonega. He said that he had been to the Philippine war and had many things to tell about the great battles, where the bodies of the enemy afterwards could be seen lying thick on the ground covering as much space as Dahlonega, and so on. From his appearance he had been receiving bad treatment since leaving the army and looked more like an escaped convict than a soldier. Although he might have been in the army where the balls were thickest—in the ammunition ways on.

The other night when the storm was approaching our friend R. W. Walker, was in town. He lit out for a tunnel on the Lumpkin property, a mile and a half nearly. The road was rough, being up hill and down hill and full of gullies, but Mr. Walker made the trip safely with his lantern shining at times like a small comet with a good size tale, on account of his rapid speed. Upon entering he found a lot of dynamite which about as dangerous a cyclone. This was placed away at a safe distance and down he sat all alone for a half an hour until the cloud passed over and everything became calm, then he went to his bachelors hall and retired for the night, and by morning that pale appearance in his face of the previous night had disappeared and his natural good healthy appearance restored.

Most of the so called blockade liquor being brought to Dahlonega is so mean that it causes every one who get drunk on it to be crazy and unable to do anything for several days.

If the city council would place a tax on big buck negroes standing around on the corners picking guitars and banjos there would be less idleness and more of the stuff of life in their meat tubs.

This section was visited by a very heavy wind and rain storm last Friday night at about 9 o'clock which was accompanied by hail in some places. It thundered, lightened and roared so when approaching that it caused many to be alarmed thinking it was a cyclone. We have heard of no damage in the county except to land.

H. D. Gurley is now displaying the complete sample line of Strauss Bros. Chicago. You can't make a mistake ordering your spring garments from him. Every garment he makes carries with it the experience gained from good clothes making for twenty-five years. Call on H. D. Gurley to look at samples and get his very low prices.

Some few who run a little store in the country in this section and keep the postoffice are opposed to the rural mail delivery, simply because they are afraid that their offices will be discontinued and it will injure their business. This is a wrong view to take of the matter. People have to trade even if this system is adopted. They have to eat and drink just the same.

We understand that the ordinaries of Dawson county issues license to any one wishing to marry out in Mill Creek district in Lumpkin county. This is a strict violation of law. Any ordinary doing this lays himself liable to pay a fine of $500 which goes for educational purposes. Section 2419 of the civil code shows this. And again it is a violation for the marriage of a girl who is under eighteen years of age. Yet some do it for the sake of the $1.50.

Some people here are drunk two days, sick two and ashamed three, thus consuming the entire week on a spree.

At a recent dance in Dahlonega a grand curiosity was exhibited free of charge which attracted the attention of every one present.

A few nights ago some boys and girls of her color gave Narcissa Stevens a surprise party, who cut up so as to disturb the people all around.

M. J. Williams tells us that he has declined making the race for sheriff. He is going to offer goods for sale, advertise in the Nugget and get rich.

It turns out that the report of Rev. Sam Waters getting everything he had burnt up a few days ago is a flash. The things lost by fire consisted of three or four pieces only.

Col. Farrow went up to Porter Springs last week and had a dozen hands preparing his garden and planting it so as to have plenty of vegetables for his guests when the season opens next summer.

Miss Hattie Harris has been appointed postmistress at Porter Springs who took charge of the office last Tuesday. On that day this office was changed to a second class office which shows that the business of the same is increasing.

The other Sunday when Geo. Peck was on his way to Atlanta to attend the U. S. Court, he forgot that it was the Sabbath and after trying to enter several stores in the city of Gainesville to get some corn to feed his horse without success, met a man and wanted to know what in the devil they were all closed up for.

We do not know of a single case of small pox in Lumpkin county now. Postmaster Bracket of Auraria, has been up and out for some time, but there seems to be plenty close to the line in Dawson. The convening of court in Dahlonega on the 3rd Monday in April will likely give it a new start, that is if the candidates do not get it commenced earlier. And when May meeting wind up we are afraid that it will be spread all over the country.

Martin Wehnt, known here as the "Red Fox" of Nimblewill district, was in Dahlonega last Saturday preparing to set the divorce mill to grinding. He says that his wife has deserted him and he wants a divorce so he can select another woman that will stay with him in case he sees proper. Now if there is any right nice, pretty lady who wants to marry very bad she can win Martin for a husband by acting in a manner so as to gain his friendship and love.

The Dawsonville Advertiser thinks there is a man in that county who can beat the record for talking in his sleep. We don't know about that. One resides in Lumpkin who at night tells everything he does during the day, often haying to go off into the woods and take a nap after doing something he doesn't want his wife to know. He succeeded in deceiving her in this way for many years but one day he got so drunk that he forgot to take his nap and that night told so many things on himself that his wife quit him and they have never lived together since.

General A. J. Warner, of the Gainesville & Dahlonega Electric Railroad, was in the city Monday, and closed the contract for 2,000 incandescent electric lights. He has also closed a $60,000 contract for water wheels and dynamos to be used on the Chestate and Chatahoochee rivers. The dynamos are contracted to be here by the first of September, which is the earliest date that the concerns furnishing them can ship. The dam across the Chestate river is now 23 feet high, with only 4 more feet added. The river has been turned out of the original bed, but will be turned back one day this week. A small dynamo will be then put in and an electric wire run to the city to furnish incandescent lights. Eagle.

When you get mad at anything you see in a paper and claim that you have hunted all over town and can't find its editor advertise for him and some one will assist you in the search. These days "money makes the mare go" and you must not expect something for nothing.

Although the meeting only closed last Sunday some of them have already broke their pledges with the preacher by drinking liquor. There has been plenty of it in this week—so plentiful that a fellow gave us a bottle full and we carried it home and April fooled our better half by putting it away for medicinal purposes without taking the stopper out of the bottle.

After the 10th of April we will positively close our books and will run no book accounts at all, but will sell clothing and gents furnishings for good notes. We have cut prices on every thing and it will pay you to spend your cash with us as we will not have to add any extra profits to make up for "sorry accounts." Come and see what we have got for you. We have some big bargains and want you to have them.

ANDERSON & JONES.

Bill Gaddis, supposed to be a former citizen of Lumpkin county killed Samp Shadwick, in the Wolf Creek section, N. C., a few days ago. Shadwick had purchased the land occupied by Gaddis who refused to give it up, and they got to talking while both were under the influence of liquor resulting as above stated. Gaddis made his escape. Shadwick, the deceased, was shot within half a mile of where he had killed Frank Davis, about three years ago.

Spring fights have already opened up in Crumby and Frog Town districts. Last Saturday Floyd Anderson and Floyd Guerrin lited and the latter got out about the neck a little before they were separated. A few days before that Solomon Shofelt and Cobb Grindle locked horns but neither got bookended no damage occurred. Shofelt and his wife dissolving co-partnership and he is selling out with the intention of seeking another clime. All caused by whiskey far away, so it is said.

Last Saturday afternoon Frank Rider and John Barker came driving into town in a two horse buggy, both looking like "after the bottle mother." One horse was shot in the hip, and the buggy held a jug of "knock out drops" and a pistol, which partially explained matters. They both work for Mr. Ashley down at his boat in Dawson county and had started out on a pleasure trip, but it resulted differently. Besides the other troubles Frank carried a fist which he had been using in such a rough manner as to cause it to look almost as blue as indigo. We understand that the whole trouble originated as follows: Mr. Ashley, before leaving for Atlanta the other morning while up stairs in his building saw a blockader hide a keg near by, who having been troubled by them selling liquor to his hands so much, had the keg brought in and put away. Some time after that Frank Rider filled a jug and put it into the buggy, and after having a fight or two with his brother John started to Dahlonega with John Barker and Ross Duff. Rider and Duff both carried pistols and Barker handled the lines and looked after the jug, all three giving the latter their undivided attention and frequently a shot was fired, which one hit the horse we do not know, and it is doubtless whether either of them do or not. Duff got out before reaching town and went home a near way but knew nothing until next morning, while Rider and Barker came to town, said a fight had occurred with some unknown man who, while aiming at Frank shot the horse. So every body has its sweet and if Duff's father finds out who sold his sixteen year old boy a pistol there will be still more bitterness.

Letter From A. W. Cain.

FLORESVILLE, TEXAS,
March 29, 1902.

ED. NUGGET:—

I desire to say a few words to my old friends through the columns of your valuable paper:

Spring is here. The trees have been dressed up in their summer clothes for some time and will continue to wear them till next December. A beautiful carpet of grass covers the ground and you would likely say, "The cattle can now live in the woods," but one never hears that expression here because most of the cattle live all winter long without feed. The winter has been very mild. There has been no ice at all since January and in fact very little during the entire winter. No snow at all has fallen. That same February Sunday that Dahlonega had the nine inch snow the girls here used their fans at church.

There are, of course, some objections to this section of country. One is the bad water. It's as good as any eastern water but how glad I would be to get a drink of such water as flows down Cane Creek or the Yahoola to say nothing of the countless sparkling springs in the mountains.

Another objection is the absence of hills. I used to see nothing attractive about hills I thought they were fit for nothing but to hinder the progress—especially the religious progress—of man. And you have thought so too if you have ever plowed a mean mule on a steep new-ground hill side and had the rocks tear loose, roll over you and mash your toes, the roots fly back and knock the bark off your shins or perhaps the plow strike a stump and one of the handles pierce your side like a Roman spear. But there is a beautiful and grandeur in hills. No wonder the people of North Georgia cherish such lofty sentiments. The majestic hills lift them right up into the presence of the Eternal.

And the sand storms out here; they are dreadful. The vegetation is so scarce the wind catches up immense quantities of sand which drifts in the gutters and against houses and fences; just as you have seen snow drift. And this is not the worst of it. The sand gets into your room and on your bed, in your eyes and nose and on your head, in your pockets and shoes and all over you. Really the sand is so fine and penetrating that it has crept into my dust-proof Waterbury watch and clogged the wheels till it won't run only when I run to catch my hat as it is carried away by a gust of wind.

And it doesn't rain enough here. It has not rained enough to flow in the streets but once in three months. The question of drinking water is becoming quite a problem. It is said that a man near this place shot down a thousand head of his cattle to keep them from dying for water.

But after all this is a fine country. There is a demand for labor in almost every department and wages are good. If a man don't make money here it is because he is too lazy for anything. And the climate is delightful. The pure dry air makes one feel healthy and spry all the time.

There is quite a number of Georgians living in Floresville. Among them are O. P. Hyde who formerly lived at Dawsonville, Ga., and Judge L. S. Lawhorn, a cousin of a former ordinary of Lumpkin county. And some of the most famous school men in this state are Georgians. Among them is R. B. Cousins, candidate for State Superintendent of Instruction. He once attended the N. G. A. College. And M. G. Bates, Supt. of schools, Ft. Worth, was a member of the first class that graduated from N. G. A. College.

Well, the biggest thing I have seen in Texas was a cattle ranch that contained thirty thousand acres. The next biggest was a stampede of 1400 cattle. But I heard more of the stampede than I saw for it was night as cattle don't stampede in the day time. But it is sufficient to say they swept strong fences, wagons, buggies and such like before them just as they would smash as many corn stalks.

I have been teaching nine months without missing a single day and have two more months to teach. By that time I may be tired. So I mean to visit the city of Mexico and rest up awhile after which I will return to the United States and enter the University of Texas for the purpose of taking a special course in History.

Respectfully,
A. W. CAIN.

Announcement.

Having decided to offer my service to the people of Lumpkin county as a candidate for the house of representatives to the next general assembly, and in making that decision I am conscious of the responsibility that I assume [entering the race and with a distrust in my ability to meet the arguments to the full measure and to the expectation of my people. I shall rely fully upon what may be expected of me from my past senatorial record as senator and challenge a thorough investigation as to my past service in the State Senate. As it is of record, and I feel assured of one fact, that I have never been called on in private life, or in war or in the State Senate but that I performed my duty to the full extent of my ability. Believing that I can be of service to my county if elected, I hereby submit my candidacy to the people with whom I have been born and raised, and if honored by my county I can but pledge to the people that their interest shall be strictly attended to. I shall on Tuesday of court week at 12 o'clock, m., address the citizens, giving my acts and doings in the last senate, and also my candidacy subjecting my claims to a democratic primary of Lumpkin county.

Respectfully,
W. H. McAREE.

A Legend.

There is a certain class of colored people who still believe in the legend that shows Adam and Eve to have been created black and their descendants to have been of the same hue up to the time after the flood: Noah a black man of wealth and influence in his time. He had many sheep, goats, camels, and many servants to tend them. One day after the patriarch called his three sons, named Japheth, Shem and Ham, and went to a pool of clear water near by.

He told Japheth, the oldest, to immerse himself in the water and he did so. Lo! behold his skin became as white as a sheet of paper. Shem was told to do likewise, but as the water became yellowish he came out with his skin yellow. Now the water was ebbing fast and becoming muddy. Ham the last son, hurried to take off his clothes and plunged himself falling on his hands, and his skin remained black as before, except the palms of his hands and the soles of his feet showing the yellowish color.—Ex.

Didn't Want Them to Vote For Estill Because He Was a Methodist.

EDITOR NUGGET:—

Please allow me space in your valuable paper for a few lines. Some few years back Mr. C. M. Ferguson belonged to the M. E. Church and preached all round these mountains to the people trying to get them to turn from their wicked ways. Sometime afterwards he was turned out of the M. E. Church for his misconduct. Then he joined the Baptist Church and still tries to preach. Last fourth Sunday he was at Mt. Zion Church. Before preaching began he was electioneering for Hon. Guerry—against Hon. Estill. He told the people he did not want any one that was there to vote for Mr. Estill because he belonged to the Methodist Church.

Now what do you think of him, trying to preach and trying to keep the people from voting for a man just because he is a Methodist? We all had an idea of voting for Guerry until Mr. Ferguson began talking such interest for him that we can't feel satisfied to vote for him because Mr. Ferguson is so often in the wrong side. [Mr. Ferguson's wife is a leading member of the Methodist Church and most of his children belong to it. We can't tell why he is so strong against the Methodist unless he got mad because they turned him out.]

This is the same Mr. Ferguson that was a candidate for the legislature on the populist ticket and got defeated by a large majority. We have decided to leave Mr. Ferguson out and go according to our own judgement, for we don't want to be pulled by a preacher that will electioneer against a good man because he is a Methodist.

A VOTER

Shrewd Kentucky Editor.

Yankee editors may be shrewd, but all shrewdness is not confined to the New England states. At least that is the opinion of senator Deboe of Kentucky, who recently told this story:

"The State Fair association offered a prize of $10 in gold for each of the best samples of corn, oats and tobacco. This offer gave the editor an idea. He advertised that he would give a year's subscription, worth $2, for the best samples of corn, oats and tobacco that were brought to him within a certain time.

"The country people jumped at the opportunity to get a year's reading matter on such easy terms. Every farmer in Hardin county brought his contribution, and when all the samples had been deposited the wise editor had a barn full of stuff. On a certain day the corn, oats and tobacco were spread upon tables which ran along three sides of the courthouse square, and after a very prolonged examination the prize was duly awarded.

"Then the editor picked out the finest ears of corn, the heaviest heads of oats and the best twists of tobacco and sent these selections to the state fair. He got the $30 in gold, and besides that he sold enough stuff to the hotel proprietor to pay his board for six months."

There is a person talking of running for the legislature in this county who has failed to pay his taxes last year of 65 cents. If he does run and is elected he should be put on the finance committee so he can explain to the others how to run the state without money.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, APRIL 11, 1902.
Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O.
as Second Class Matter.
Official Organ of both City and County.

We see from our exchanges that Mr. Guerry is losing his grip.

Attorney R. M. Bryson, of Dahlonega, is a prospective candidate for the legislature from Lumpkin county.

Candidates, if you are expecting to run for an office send in the "scads" and let the people know it through the columns of the NUGGET.

The only objections we have heard any one have against Mr. Estill is because he is a Methodist, as will be seen from a communication on the first page of this issue, Oh how thin.

The announcement of J. B. Simmons appears in this issue for county treasurer. Mr. Simmons is at present a member of the board of education of Lumpkin and a young man who is well known to you all, fully competent to fill the office.

Georgia has three of the best candidates for governor that we ever knew or read about. Although we, as well as every other citizen, have a choice, it matters not which one is nominated we will be for him on the home stretch without carrying any wounded feelings.

The primary for the nomination of the county officers of Habersham will be held on the 5th of June. Each candidate must sign a pledge that he will use no money nor liquor. This is a good move and those of Lumpkin county should be required to take the same pledge.

Prencher Beck, the candidate for state school commissioner, does not only tell us of the existing "evils" this department but maps out a plan by which it can be remedied and the people of Georgia saved thousands of dollars annually now is being sent off into other states for books.

Mr. Terrell is sending out his Canton speech in circular form by the thousands. In it he mentions a great many evils but gives no remedy, thus rendering it like a last year's almanac. If this gentleman is unable to tell us before the election what can be done for the relief of the heavy burdened taxpayers no change can be expected should he be elected.

Some says they are going to support Mr. Guerry because he is a temperance man and their boys drink. If they cannot prevent this by the use of the switch or persuasion, assisted by a temperance society here in the county, how can Mr. Guerry, if elected, hinder it by occupying the gubernatorial chair in Atlanta, surrounded by barrooms on every side? But still they want the barrooms to run at "the other place" so as to help raise money for educational purposes.

The Atlanta Constitution of the 5th instant says "that compulsory state system of uniformity of the text books would not only result in unnecessary expense, but would tend to discourage popular interest by removing the control of the instrumentalities of education too far from domestic influence." This is a matter in which the Constitution cannot mislead the people. From the highest to the most humblest person having to purchase school books know this is not correct. The miner and renter who are not permanently located and move from place to place know that every county has different books have to be purchased provided he is able to do so or his children cannot go to school. This uniform system of text books is in operation in the big state of Texas as well as several others and gives perfect satisfaction. And there is no state in the union further advanced in educational interests than Texas.

The new soldiers home in Atlanta will be ready for occupancy about the first of August.

A negro in Gainesville by "taking" up a mattress and walking" caused him to have to work in the chain gang 12 months.

Some of the candidates for the legislature in Georgia are adding the uniformity of text books as a plank to their platforms.

Lipscomb, the blind tiger man at Gainesville, got off by paying the city $150 in fines, closing out his so called restaurant and leaving the place.

It is said that a negro in Tennessee is living with his sixth wife and has 47 children. If one child "makes a household happy" what amount of happiness can all this great gang bring about?

J. B. Brown announces for reelection in this issue for county treasurer. Mr. Brown, as the most of you know, is one among the best citizens of the county and has transacted the business of his office with perfect satisfaction.

A man on his way to Texas to buy a farm with $1,800 in his vest pocket the other day requested to be locked up in the Atlanta barracks so his money would be safe. But as he was told that they only cared for the poor had to look out for other quarters. Had he got tight they might have carried him to the place in a wheelbarrow.

The Guerry mass meeting at the court house here last Tuesday night was like some of the Alliance rallies we use to have, very small, however, there were enough present to pass resolutions asking Mr. Guerry to come up Tuesday of court week if possible and deliver a speech which if done may put some life into the gatherings. Another meeting will be held next Friday night.

All the candidates for county officers who have announced are our friends, and we do not expect to take sides in the NUGGET for either but will endeavor to treat all fair and right, and whoever is nominated by the primary will get our hearty support. We have heard people say that they would vote in the primary and if they didn't get their men they would not cast their ballot in the final election. We are not built this way.

By reference to the announcement column elsewhere you will see that Hon. W. H. McAfee is a candidate for the legislature from this county. Mr. McAfee's ability as a legislator is too well known by you to need any comment from us, as he has served the people of his district three times in the senate, always keeping a watchful eye upon the interest of his constituents. Mr. McAfee's card will be found on the first page.

The fine exposition at Charleston is now in its fifth month success, attracting the attention of the people every where who are daily flocking there to see one of the greatest expositions of the age. On April 15th is Georgia day and if you anticipate going now is your best opportunity. The round trip rate will be $1.50 from Gainesville by the Gainesville, Jefferson & Southern Railway, and all stations on this line tickets will be sold for trains on April 14th, good to return on any train up to and including April 17th.

On Friday last a few citizens met in the court house and organized a Querry club by electing Col. W. P. Price Chairman and R. C. Meaders Secretary. The names of twenty-two were on the list but only about ten or eleven of them were present, absent probably attending to business matters and "making" hay while the sun shines," being of more importance at this season of the year than their presence at a political meeting. Even if this gathering was small it need not discourage them for some times small whirl winds create great cyclones and sweep everything before them.

With the next few days the state will get $51,256.54 for the hire of convicts for quarter ending March 31st.

Editor G. W. Gates of the Ellijay Courier-Sentinel, suspended his paper and locked up the office last week, and T. H. Tabor has been appointed receiver by Judge Gober.

An Italian with the small pox taking his seat in a Central car near Macon the other day created some excitement. The man was put off and the car left at a station and fumigated.

Will Reynolds, a desperate negro before he could be arrested in Alabama the other day, killed two officers, wounded three fatally and four others seriously. He took refuge in his house where he was shot and burned.

Old Mrs. Nations still continues to act the fool. The last time was at Nebraska city, the other day, Besides getting slapped out of a barroom for smashing a picture, was put in jail, but was afterwards released promising to leave the city.

The street duel in Griffin between Hon. J. J. Flynt and Capt. W. B. Hudson the other day, should be a warning to our live candidates not to get mad about politics. Mr. Hudson was killed and Mr. Flynt is seriously wounded.

A Democratic Call.

To the Democratic executive committee of Lumpkin County:

You are hereby called to meet at the court house in Dahlonega on the 3rd Monday in April (the 31st) at 12 o'clock m., for the purpose of fixing a date for the democratic primary, and transacting such other business as may come before the committee. The meeting is of importance, therefore each member is urged to be present.

J. M. BROOKSHER,

Chairman

Dem. Ex. Com. of Lumpkin Co.

"The South Carolina and Interstate and West Indian Exposition will be held in the city of Charleston from December 1st, 1901, to June 1st, 1902. There is no place on this continent where the climatic conditions are so favorable for a Mid-Winter Exposition.

Out-of-door life in Charleston during the winter season is a perpetual life.

Flowers bloom in the open gardens throughout the year, and a bowl of roses on the Christmas dinner table is not an unusual sight.

Visit the Exposition and Travel via the G. J. & S and Georgia Roads.

Short Line! Quick Time!

Low Rates! For further information call on local Agents or Samuel C. Dunlap, Gainesville, Ga.

Col. Smith, of Oglethorpe county, has at last decided that he will not be in the race for governor.

Oil for the Children.

Give them oil—cod-liver oil. It's curious to see the result.

Give it to the peevish, fretful child, and he laughs. Give it to the pale, anemic child, and his face becomes rosy and full of health. Take a flat-chested child, or a child that has stopped growing, give him the oil, and he will grow big and strong like the rest.

This is not a new scheme. It has been done for years. Of course you must use the right oil. Scott's Emulsion is the one.

Scott's Emulsion neither looks nor tastes like oil because we are so careful in making it pleasant to take.

Send for free sample. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 409 Pearl St., N. Y. 100 and 4000, all druggists.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, APRIL 11, 1902.

See sheriff's sale and road notice in this issue.

The Dahlonega college library has 4,000 volumes.

Mrs. R. H. Baker and Mrs. R. C. Meaders visited Gainesville Wednesday.

We have received one of the official tickets to be used in the next primary which is 22½ inches long.

Miss Sallie Reid, of this county, was wedded on the 25th ult. to Mr. B. M. Cox, of White county. The marriage took place at Homer, Ga.

Sometimes it is impossible for us to supply any one with back numbers of the NUGGET but when able to do it will do so with pleasure.

Mrs. L. Q. Meaders leaves for Watkinsville, Ga., this week where she expects to remain some time and may afterwards locate there.

City Marshal Harbison has had a dog under arrest and in the calaboose this week because the tax was not paid on it in accordance with law.

Persons who subscribe for the NUGGET and do not get their paper right away, will please notify us as we sometimes get their address wrong.

Another cold wave struck us Monday night and on Tuesday morning there was plenty of ice, whether the peaches will be able to stand it we can't tell.

The students in anticipation of visiting Atlanta to attend the oratorical contest taking place soon, are memorizing their college yell which is a very long one, so as to be in good time when the time arrives.

This week Jordan Wheelock swore out a warrant for R. Palmour of Dawson county, charging him with trespassing—cutting a road through Whitechapel land. Mr. Palmour came up last Tuesday and made bond for his appearance at the next term of the Superior Court, at which time the grand jury will pass upon it.

A little bug that stings the peach called the curculion and renders it unsaleable, is the deadliest foe to the peach culture in Georgia, says the Marietta Journal. Some spray to kill them and others spread sheers beneath the trees each morning while they are benumbed and kill them. That little insect hasn't made its appearance up here yet, but jack frost has, which is more destructive to fruit than the other.

The other night a certain man went home drunk and after supper went into the basement until all vacated the dining room. Then he slipped in and got under the table to hear what his wife and sister in law in the next room had sweet to say about him, where he remained until discovered and had to come crawling out, being no wiser than when secreting himself, for they both saw enough of his actions without talking about him when he was supposed to be absent.

It is reported that Eliza Woody, a school teacher of Lumpkin co., instead of taking the Path of Life, recently adopted by the Board of education of this county, eloped last Sunday with his niece, the oldest daughter of Wm. Stover, leaving his wife and a child or two behind to care for themselves the best they can. Mr. Stover was in last Monday to see what could be done with them, but as he is a poor man got but very little satisfaction, Solicitor General Charters being absent at the time. The girl is 19. The man's age we do not know—any way he is older than good if this rumor is true. If it is may be gone to the heathen nation where he can receive special attention of some of the preachers in this country together with a purse of money.

The railroad work still progresses.

V. R. Hix, who has been teaching school at Price, Ga., is now back with us.

Lumpkin Superior Court convenes on the 21st inst., and but little business outside of the murder trial.

A caye as large as a big house fell in at Crown Mountain Saturday night and came near catching some of the hands.

Will Childers, who has been in the employ of the Consolidated Co. for a long time, left out last Tuesday morning for Colorado, he said.

Col. J. W. H. Underwood, of Cleveland, spent last Monday in Dahlonega. He is a candidate for re-election to the house from his county.

Mrs. Tilda Findley, who was injured by falling into a hole near the Methodist church six weeks ago, was able to be out last Monday for the first time since the accident occurred.

Mr. Jaquish of Gainesville, spent a short time here last week in company with Mr. Kiser of his place and Mr. Stump of New York, looking at the mining plants in and near Dahlonega.

On account of the series of meetings in progress at the Methodist church Easter services were not held until last Sunday night, which were pronounced as being very interesting by all present.

Now that several mining operations are resuming work again our business men may look for a good trade. In fact the whole country will be benefited and prosperity reign throughout the land.

Homer Castleberry, a son of J. F. Castleberry of Dahlonega, died in Atlanta last Friday afternoon of consumption. His remains were carried to Milledgeville and placed by the side of his wife in the cemetery of that city.

R. W. Walker, visited Gumer county this week on business. We always miss Mr. Walker when he goes away for he never fails to call around to see his friends most every day with a pleasant smile and a happy greeting.

Mr. Hayden, residing near Dahlonega, says that the juice of a lemon will prevent any one from taking the small pox. Just make a hole in the lemon and suck it occasionally. He says that he has done this and traveled all through sections infested by both yellow fever and small pox and never caught either disease.

An Ohio gentleman, after looking over the mining field last week expressed himself as being surprised at the quantity and quality of ore here. Being a miner he knew what he was talking about. In addition to this said that he was very sorry that he had made an investment in the west before coming to this place.

The demand for Peruna in Dahlonega as a beverage still continues. We are told that one man has bought enough of it to have over a hundred empty bottles and if he continues will soon have enough to sell by wholesale. Some parties getting on spees spend from five to eight dollars per day for it. Such as this causes hard times in many a household.

The oldest person in Dahlonega is Uncle Mart Hashaw, a colored man who is 92 years of age. While a number of persons much younger than Uncle Mart begs for a living this old man has been able to make a support this far. Notwithstanding all these long years this old man has not forgot to tip his hat and be polite to white people like negroes used to in time of slavery.

If you contemplate announcing for an office send in the foe with the same. You are all good for your debts but after the election the defeated ones would hate to pay for an announcement about as bad as some people do in settling off a liquor or Peruna bill after it is all drunk up and they feel bad. We want the money while you have hopes and in high spirits.

There are yet a few cases of mumps in Dahlonega.

A good four room dwelling to rent by W. J. Hightower.

Some of our merchants had more eggs than they could sell for Easter and shipped quite a lot of them to Gainesville.

See our straw hats and umbrellas and parcels and shoes. The low price will surprise you. B. R. Meaders & Sons.

If any of you desire a good cheap $9.75 watch see advertisements of Blackburn, Mosely Black & Co. in this issue, warranted for ten years.

U. S. officials Henderson and Grizzle before they wound up their raid last week destroyed four illicit distilleries, two in Lampkin and two in Dawson.

The Manual of Methods of Georgia teachers for this county have been received by the county school commissioner and are ready for distribution among the teachers.

There were two weddings in this county last Sunday. One of the contracting parties being Mr. Charlie Wood and Miss May Starzel, and the other was Mr. Charlie Free and Miss Florence Price.

FOR SALE.—A nice well finished three room house together with half acre lot in Dahlonega. Also a forty acre lot including the mineral within a mile of Dahlonega. Apply to James Phillips, Dahlonega, Ga.

In the store of B. R. Meaders & Sons we were shown last week a sample of fancy candy made by Mrs. R. C. Meaders from pure cream and sugar that cannot be surpassed in beauty or taste in the United States.

Only ten fl. as. were issued for sanitary taxes in Dahlonega last week. There will be no trouble in collecting these taxes promptly when the people learn that it has to be done or a dollar added for negligence.

E. W. Newton, a very prominent citizen of Toledo, Ohio, accompanied Mr. Broymann and his wife to Dahlonega last week. Mr. Meagley, an expert book keeper also came with them who will be here for some time on business.

The other night merchant McKee forgot and left a lot of garden tools hanging out at his store and the night passed without them being molested. Had they been banjos or old fiddles they wouldn't have remained there two hours.

The board of Education of Lumpkin county met last Wednesday and fixed the salary of the county school commissioner for the year at $300, being the same amount as the former salary. At this meeting the Path Finder on Physiology was adopted.

For a few mornings or two this month the Gainesville mail left at 8 o'clock, after which it resumed the old schedule of 7, the contractor wanting as much time as possible to make the trip. So it seems to be optionary with him about what time he starts, that is at any time between seven and eight.

A recent house was burned in Davis district one night last week belonging to the Consolidated Co., within about one hundred and fifty yards of where a school house was reduced to ashes by the torch. Miles Newberry, a poor worthless person used to live in it who was talking of returning and it is believed by some that the house was burned in order to get rid of him.

Save your ink bottles. Will fill them with first quality of black ink for 1 cent or 1 pint for 5 cents. A nice 8 day clock $1.95. Good metal door mat 55 cents. Gold paint 15 cents, 25 cents grade. Puff combs 10 cents, 20 cents grade. Egg beater 9 cents, 25 cents grade. A lot of merchants have leaders that they sell at "cost" and then make the profit on something else. But every thing we carry is as cheap as the cheapest and most every thing at a lower price than found at any place in the county. B. R. MEADERS & SONS.

See tax receiver's first round in this issue.

Some more houses to rent. Apply to M. J. Williams.

An infant of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Webb was buried Wednesday. When in Gainesville call on N. N. Littlefield for your high grade Guano and Acids at the lowest.

With her prosperous gold mines and the building of a railroad there is certainly a bright future in store for Dahlonega.

Marshal Harbison has been out this week examining pig pens, to see if they are as large as the law directs, who found some that were not.

When in Dahlonega stop at the Tate House where you will have good fare. And if you have a team it will be cared for—good stables and plenty to feed with.

Very often when a persons house rent is due in Dahlonega they will move without saying anything to the owner. And the other day a fellow owning two dogs—a male and female—saved $3.50 by moving outside of the incorporate limits.

News was received here by telegraph last Friday afternoon of the death of Bob Walker, a son of G. W. Walker, of Porter Springs, which occurred in Arizona that morning. The telegram was addressed to his father, stating that he was killed but didn't say how.

Fly time will soon be here. So go to J. F. Moores and get a supply of screen windows. Also a lot of wire cloth for doors and windows in 13 and 14 mesh. Incandescent electric lamps. Best and prettiest line of shoes in town and the best and prettiest line of straw hats in the market.

The young men at the college have recently organized a Young Men's Christian Association which meets in college chapel at 3 o'clock each Sunday afternoon. They had an interesting and well attended meeting last Sunday. The following young men are officers of the association: J. F. McCrackin, Pres., V. R. Hicks, Vice Pres., W. T. Townsend, Sec., J. R. Berry, Treas.

Mr. Moore of the Gainesville and Dahlonega Electric Railway Co., informed us Wednesday that they were intending to put a tremendous force of hands to work on the line first of May, laying the street railway track in Gainesville, putting up the pole line, grading and pushing the work on the railroad line and completing it to the Chestatee river as soon as possible. There is no guess work or child's play about this enterprise. It is a certainty.

You will see by a clipping from the Cleveland Courier that the Presiding Elder is quoted as saying that if people didn't contribute very liberally to foreign missions they would go to hell and be damned. Of course his saying it does not make it so, but we are very sorry to hear of a sensible man making any such remarks, for some people may be silly enough to believe it and go hungry in order to divide with the heathens. These heathens were created by the Great Ruler who must have made them to His notion and we can no more change their manner of living than we can tame wild turkeys.

Charlie Crisson, who returned from Dncktown, Tenn., some two or three weeks ago, broke out with the small pox last Sunday and is now quarantined at his fathers, E. E. Crisson, on Clarksville street and no one can come out or go in except the attending physician. Charlie had been slightly sick for some day but the case didn't develop until Sunday. He attended the Baptist Sunday School and church that day while breaking out and many of those not already vaccinated are now receiving the attention of the physician. We saw Charlie climbing an apple tree on Monday at home and walking a limb with his hands which shows that it is a very light form. Mr. Crisson's store is not closed. It is being run by Mr. Wilkins.

Mrs. John Howard died last Sunday in Shoal Creek district of consumption.

Dan Smith has had bad luck this week. A little negro hit his child while throwing at his child. Then afterwards the calf was found with a broken leg.

J. A. Hughes of Auraria, Ga., found an old silver coin dated 1801. It has the kings crown and the name of Ferdinand on it, besides other letters and figures hard to read.

On Wednesday night while E. J. Walden was at work at the Crown Mountain mine he received painful but not serious injuries. He was on the side of a bank and a clod, which was loosened by a blast, knocked him down into a cut some 75 or 80 feet. No bones broken.

Mrs. Francis A. Fitts died at her sons, Joseph Fitts, near Dahlonega last Wednesday after an illness of several weeks, aged 73. The deceased had been a resident of this county all her life and a strict member of the Baptist church since girlhood. She leaves a number of relatives and a host of friends to mourn her loss.

Over on the Chestatee river last Sunday while Dal Loggins was under the influence of moonshine whisky he told some of the boys that he could catch any kind of a fish in the water or on land and made a lounge. He collided with the ground and his face struck a rock which cut a great long gash, somewhat disfiguring Dales appearance. When he arose Bill Bryson wanted to know if he caught a horny head.

The following officers were elected last Monday in the Phi Mu Society at the college: H. S. Bowden, Pres., C. R. Sewel, Vice Pres., A. Byers, Recording Sec., V. R. Hicks, Corresponding Sec., T. G. Stokes, Critic, J. W. Stephens, Librarian., B. H. Parham, Marshal., N. W. Grant, Assistant Marshal. This society will give a public debate in college chapel next Monday night. Every body cordially invited to attend.

Solicitor General Charters has been absent in Gainesville this week prosecuting Pirkle and Stover charged with the murder of Mrs. Blake in that county. Pirkle, the boy, was found guilty Tuesday and recommended to the mercy of the court, and the other trial is progressing as we go to press. Col. Charters is assisted by Col. Howard Thompson, and Pirkle was represented by Messrs. Sloan and Gaillard, Stover is represented by Messrs. James Tovey and Gaillard. Later—Stover found guilty and both sent up for life.

Council Proceedings.

The city council of Dahlonega met Monday night. Present: Mayor Baker. Councilmen: McGee, Lilly, Jackson, F. G. Jones and C. H. Jones.

The following accounts were ordered paid: To Union Store Co. 75 cents, J. E. Anderson 50 cents, J. E. McGee $40.25, Dr. Head for disinfecting two houses $3.00.

The marshal presented his report as follows for March: Sanitary tax collected for 1st quarter $110.00. Fines and cost 1st quarter $86.00, dog tax for March $13.00. Total $209.00.

Account of W. J. Worley, city clerk, 1st quarter $6.00, ordered paid.

The proposition of M. F. Wheelock and B. F. Anderson in regard to settling suits were read and accepted by the city paying the cost. The marshal was ordered to have the well east of the court house cleaned out.

J. E. McGee and F. G. Jones were authorized to purchase a one horse road scrape on best terms possible.

The tax assessors were authorized to have 1000 tax return blanks printed for the use of the city for 1902.

An ordinance was passed making it a misdemeanor for any person, knowingly having or being exposed to the small pox or any other contagious disease to go at large in the city of Dahlonega.

Mining Notes.

The big crusher at the Caven-der Creek mine was finished up and put in running order last Saturday.

Work has not as yet commenced by the Standard property but will soon as preparations are being made to that effect.

We are informed that it is the intention of the Consolidated Co. to resume work at the Findley mine in the near future.

The Bryman dredge boat is continually taking the precious metal from the bed of the Chestatee river in paying quantities.

The clean up by Fitts and Rider last week, who are working the Ashley property on the Chestatee river by a life, was very satisfactory.

It will be seen by a notice elsewhere that the annual meeting of the Crown Mountain Co. will be held in Dahlonega on Wednesday May the 7th.

An article on the Georgia gold belt by assistant state geologist McCallie will be found on the 4th page which will be found of much interest to those wishing to acquaint themselves with it.

Mr. Jaquish while up a few days ago from Gainesville, informed us that he was already doing some work on his property in this county near Auraria, and is preparing to put in a Huntington in connection with this fifteen stamp mill already in position.

The one at the Hand still continues good and the mill plates are showing up nicely. Twenty-five stamps are being continuously kept in motion. Mr. Broyman's gold savor after a fair test has given satisfaction, but it has been silent for a few days until a new pump for it can be received.

They struck it rich down at the Benning last week. The vein being large, showing much gold to the natural eye. Even if we are not directly interested in any of the mines we are glad to note these valuable discoveries, for it does not only benefit the owners but everybody residing in the county.

A rich strike was made over at the Crown Mountain last Friday afternoon in the Crown Mountain cut. The ore is worth four or five thousand dollars per ton, and causes every one looking at the glittering gold in the creek to smile with joy. We speak from experience. Of course this is like most of the rich chutes, not so large. But cross out tunnels run into the mountain prove that there are many of these rich ones. Manager Moore says he feels confident that there are more than a hundred of them in the sparolite belt of Crown Mountain. These alone would comprise a good gold mine but there comes in the large bodies of ore. Some of them very rich. For instance take the one found in the Columbia cut last week measuring about six feet which is nearly as rich as the other new discovery. The pump is running like a top and Crown Mountain will soon convince strangers that it is a success and that mining will pay here when properly conducted.

The Georgia Gold Belt.

As many of our readers are unacquainted with the extent of the gold belt in Georgia, we give the following report made by S. W. McCallie, assistant state geologist, as follows:

The gold deposits of Georgia belong to the Appalachian gold fields an auriferous belt extending from Noyah Scotia to Alabama. In Georgia, the belt breaks up into a number of minor parallel belts, having a northeast-southwest trend. The most important of these are the Dahlonega and Hall counties belts. The former, which takes its name from Dahlonega, the county seat of Lumpkin county, is the most important. This belt enters Georgia from North Carolina in the northwestern part of Rabun county, where valuable placer deposits have been worked. Further to the southwest in White county, the belt increases in width and the mines at the same time become more numerous. As the auriferous belt enters Lumpkin county it again increases in size, reaching its greatest development in the vicinity of Dahlonega. In Dawson county the Dahlonega gold belt becomes more or less broken up, but upon entering Cherokee county it again regains economic importance and continues with but few interruptions through Bartow, Cobb, Paulding and Harrellson counties to the Georgia-Alabama State line. The entire length of the Dahlonega gold belt thus outlined is about 150 miles, while its width varies from 1 to 5 miles.

The Hall county gold belt lies some 10 miles east of the Dahlonega belt and runs more or less parallel with it for more than 100 miles, stopping short in Fulton county, only about 10 miles north of Atlanta. A third belt, which includes the Acworth, the Villa Rica and the Bonner mines, traverses Cobb, Paulding and Carroll counties. This belt is best developed in the neighborhood of Villa Rica where in former years much gold was mined. Another belt including some very important mines traverses Lincoln, Columbia, McDuffie and Warner counties in the eastern part of the State. Beyond the limits of the belts here mentioned are found a number of isolated localities where gold occurs in paying quantities. Such isolated deposits are here referred to as found in Towns, Union, Gilmer, Meriwether and other counties in northern part of the State.

The individual auriferous belts of Georgia are usually made up of a great number of veins or ore bodies running parallel to each other and conforming in dip and strike to the gneisses and schists, the country rock. They vary in thickness from a fraction of an inch to several feet or rods, and often continue without interruption for long distances. In places the veins, which consist largely of quartz, become greatly extended, forming huge shoots of excellent ore. Ore bodies are quite abundant in the Dahlonega district, where in the last two years extensive developments have been carried on which no doubt will soon result in a large increase in the gold output of the state.

Mrs. E. W. STRICKLAND.

When a prominent preacher can stand in the pulpit and say, as did the Elder last Sunday, that people will "go to hell and be damned" for not contributing very liberally to foreign missions, can we wonder at hearing a few "by-words" from those who are not "professing" Christians? Charity and religion are needed at home and although we believe in spreading Christianity, we think those working to that end should follow in the footsteps of the old apostles who were commanded "and as ye go, preach saying, the kingdom of heaven is at hand." Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils; freely ye have received, freely give. Provide neither gold, nor silver, nor brass in your purses, nor scrip for your journey, neither two coats, neither shoes nor yet staves." Nevertheless it is a poor religion that does not reach down in a man's pocket when necessity presents itself or that causes a man to give money in order that he may "stand in" with his brethren.—Cleveland Courier.

The Newnan Herald publishes the following on candidate Guerry: O, Brother Guerry, listen to my query. What about your railroad job? Now, be like a man and be honest—if you can, ain't this just the reason why you sob? If they had only retained you, then it never would have stained you to have sung their praises and their virtue still, for the grapes are not so sour when you have the right and power to reach up and pluck them at your will. So, when you have been done "appealing, and been made to hit the ceiling by the voters, whose aid you now implore, don't get angry and abuse them, you may wish to use them on returning from Salt river's briny shore.

A Pleasant Dream.

BY DR. N. F. HOWARD, DAHLONEGA.

I wish to relate a pleasant and interesting dream of mine, some time during the year 1901. At the time my sight was so imperfect that it was necessary for me to have a guide in traveling about, yet I was preparing to build a house.

At this period, in my night vision, or dream, I found myself eight miles east of Dahlonega on the public road, near a place known as Evans Mineral Springs. There I was selecting a location for my house. I stood by a small shade tree with my hand holding to a limb and resting my shoulder against the tree. Across the road at a place from which a house had been removed years before, leaving the stone pillars of said house there, a number of small shade trees had grown up. Under these trees, and some sitting upon the stone pillars eight or ten men had congregated, who were engaged in singing some beautiful hymns. At that place I was contemplating the location of my house. Just then a person came walking up to me, and with his left hand, took hold of the limb of the tree where I was resting, and bowing indicated that he wanted to deliver a message to me. He was neatly dressed in dark clothing. He was a medium sized man, with a pleasant expression of face. After fully attracting my attention, he remarked to me in words about as follows: "I have often been deeply impressed with the fact that so many of our hymns have in the first verses thereof the name of the Lamb, or some attribute of the Deity." At the same time he extended his right arm with an open hand upon which lay the infant image of the Saviour, neatly dressed in white, extending a few inches below the feet, with a nice head-dress, all being white except a dark colored ribbon which gathered a part of the dress on the lower portion of the chest, the ends hanging down by the left elbow.

My visitor looked at me and seemed deeply interested in the attention I gave to the little image that lay upon his hand, in which I seemed to be so much absorbed in examining at the time. This little image was five or six inches in length and was so placed upon his hand that its eyes and face met mine. At the time the singing was still going on. After having looked intently at the image for some time I lifted my eyes to my messenger's face and then turned my head away. When I looked again he had disappeared, and I awoke and found that my vision had passed, and yet it was a pleasant dream.

Then I began to call to mind the hymns referred to, and was surprised at the number of them that verified what my messenger had stated in my dream, as follows:

"Jesus lover of my soul."

"How sweet the name of Jesus sounds."

"Jesus, my all to heaven is gone."

"Am I a soldier of the cross."

"A follower of the Lamb?"

"There is a fountain filled with blood"

Drawn from Immanuel's veins."

We might multiply these quotations of hymns, but we think it unnecessary as all readers of the hymn book can see that it is so, and I was more deeply awakened than ever to the fact that Wesley, Watts, and the other christian poets had in view the building up and instruction of the church by the sentiments and doctrine of their hymns as well as the production of beautiful poetry. I decided to abandon the building of my house on account of this incident and the infirmities of age for the present.

Not Carefully Drawn.

Four or five well-known good fellows in the same line of business recently "swore off," says the Duluth News-Tribune. They had never tipped to excess, but they took a notion that it would be a good thing to quit, and accordingly quit for a period of thirty days. The agreement was drawn up in writing and signed by each. The third day after some of the parties to the agreement began to chafe under the restraint. They had never before lost the need of a drink quite badly as after the ink used in drawing up the agreement had become dry. One of them at last dropped in on one of the others, and, of course, the swearing off proposition was immediately brought up.

"I'd like awful well to have a nip," said the caller.

"Same here," was the response. "But I don't see how we can get around that agreement."

"Neither do I."

"I read once that no document however carefully drawn, will stand in court if it is attached in the right way."

"I see a gleam of hope, was the reply. 'Let's read this agreement over carefully.'

They did so, and it was discovered that the agreement did not call for thirty consecutive days, but merely for thirty days. The man that hit upon this bright idea was hailed as a born lawyer, who was wasted his time in the railroad business. There was an immediate adjournment to a popular West Superior street thirst cure.

American Locomotives Lead the World.

American locomotives, running on American rails, now whistle past the Pyramids and across the long Siberian steppes. They carry the Hindoo pilgrims from all parts of their empire to the sacred waters of the Ganges. Three years ago there was but one American locomotive in the United Kingdom; today there is not a road of importance there on which trains are not being pulled by American engines. The American locomotives have successfully invaded France. The Manchurian Railway, which in the real beginning of Oriental railway building, bought all its rails and rolling stock in the United States. American bridges span rivers on every continent. American cranes are swimming over many foreign moles. Wherever there are extensive harvests there may be found American machinery to gather the grain. In every great market of the world tools can have no better recommendation than the mark "Made in America."—Frank A. Vanderlip, in Scribner's.

Hard To Do.

The Columbus Ledger thinks that "with taxable values in Georgia increasing at the rate of $20,000,000 a year it looks like taxes might be lowered."

Yes; but with increasing appropriations for pensions and public schools, how are you going to lower the taxes? The increase of one cent up the increase of the other, truthfully remarks the Marietta Journal.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, APRIL 18, 1902.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

Some of your subscriptions are out. Drop in and renew so as to keep up with the happenings of this county.

If Mr. Estill was personally known in this county like Mr. Terrell he would sweep it. He is going to get a good vote as it is.

Mr. Stevens' opponent for commissioner of agriculture is making a great big racket but so far it has effected nothing. The gentleman will have no trouble in holding the fort.

William Gaddis, formerly of Lumpkin county, who killed Samp Chadwick in North Carolina a short time ago, was tried at Murphy a few days ago and acquitted.

Prof. Beck, the candidate for state school commissioner, who favors a uniformity of text books, is dropping some pretty heavy shots in on the present commissioner—Mr. Glenn.

Gen. Wade Hampton, the famous soldier and statesman, died at Columbus, S. C., last Friday. During his last hours he talked of long departed friends who fought with him in the civil war.

There are a lot of candidates wanting office in this county and the people in making a selection should consider well the matter and cast their ballots for those best qualified to fill the positions.

Some of our correspondents have been getting the candidates for governor in the wrong way religiously speaking. Mr. Estill belongs to the Presbyterian church. Mr. Guerry is a Methodist and Mr. Terrell is a Baptist.

Both county and state politics are getting warm now and before the race is ended it will grow still warmer and many persons are going to get scorched so badly that it will take them a long time to recover.

The Blue Ridge Post has declared itself for Rev. Mr. Beck, present county school com. of DeKalb county, who is a candidate for state school commissioner because, its editor says, he thinks it will be best for a change. We think so too.

President Roosevelt after paying Charleston, S. C., a visit is now back at Washington city, having made the trip in perfect safety and feeling greatly delighted with the hearty welcome he received at the hands of the people of the south.

In this issue you will find the announcement of J. L. Davis for county treasurer. Give his candidacy consideration for if he is elected he will make you a good and faithful officer, and in doing so you will never have any cause for regret.

Dr. R. O. Cotter, well known to the people of Dahlonega, was found dead in a room at Barnesville by his wife the other day with a pistol shot in his head, supposed accidental as he was cleaning his pistol a short time before. Dr. Cotter used to keep books in Dahlonega for The Frank W. Hall Mde Co., and for a number of years has been spending the summer at Porter Springs in this county.

There are a great many people who don't know how they are going to vote in the gubernatorial race yet. They are waiting to see how some other fellow is going or trying to learn which candidate is the strongest so they will be on the winning side. People who reach the age of 21 should know how to vote but there are hundreds who don't. They remind us of men we have seen go to take a drink of soda water with a friend and when asked what flavor, would say, "Just what ever you take." Make up your mind and learn to travel these bright days without a political guide.

To The Voters of Lumpkin County.

I submit my claims for the office of County Treasurer to the people, first because I need the office, and will give it my personal attention as it is about all the kind of work I am fit for, as my profession is that of recorder and bookkeeper. Second, because I have no farm on which to make a support and can neither teach, preach or draw a pension. Third, because according to the rotation in office I think the people should give me the next term. When Capt. James Kelly died Mr. Brown was appointed to fill out the unexpired term, and after the next general election turned it over to me. I held the office two years and was succeeded by Col. R. H. Moore, who in turn was succeeded by Mr. Wheeler, who was succeeded by Mr. Jackson, who was succeeded by Win. Marr, who died in office and was succeeded by B. F. Anderson, who was in turn succeeded by Mr. Brown. In the last election I told Mr. B. that I should help him in his election, but would be a candidate myself for the next term. I hope the good people of the county will allow me to succeed Mr. Brown again if only for one term.

Thanking all my friends for support in the past I now ask for further support. R. H. WEBB.

Several people have had some right funny times up in Chestatee district recently. Some young folks got together and sipped from the bottle freely. One of the young men, so it is reported, swore that he couldn't be bribed and two of the young females undertook the job and accomplished it.

No new cases of small pox in Dahlonega and none in the county that we know of. Charlie Crisson is about well and none of his folks have taken the disease so far.

For the benefit of some who may not understand per centage we illustrate what we mean by discounting 10 per cent. Take for instance some shoes we have priced $1.14. They cost us $1.01. You pay us $1.14 for a pair on 21st, 22nd, 23rd, 24th or 25th of April. We give you back 10 cents. You got the shoes at retail for 8 cents more than they cost. How can we afford to do this? This need not concern you, but the thing we want to know can you afford to pay so much more when we sell the same stuff so much cheaper.

B. R. Meaders & Sons.

We guess the new minister who came up Monday decided that there was plenty of work for men of his profession to do in Dahlonega. In the back he came in was an express box of liquor, and when the vehicle stopped at the court house one young man got on and others corn causing the injured party to let slip an oath or two right in hearing of the preacher. And in addition to this three men had just been brought in charged with murder.

Bird-Shot For Tiger.

No use to hunt tigers with bird-shot. It doesn't hurt the tiger any and it's awfully risky for you.

Consumption is a tiger among diseases. It is stealthy—but once started it rapidly eats up the flesh and destroys the life. No use to go hunting it with ordinary food and medicine. That's only bird-shot. It still advances. Good heavy charges of Scott's Emulsion will stop the advance. The disease feels that.

Scott's Emulsion makes the body strong to resist. It soothes and toughens the lungs and sustains the strength until the disease wears itself out.

THE NUGGET.

DAYLONEGA, APRIL 18, 1902.

J. A. Howard visited Atlanta this week.

Stop at the Tate House, where the table is supplied with the best of the country affords and fare reasonable.

Charlie Hunter was fined two dollars and cost this week for failing to obey orders when summoned to work the streets.

Your attention is called to the ad. of B. R. Meaders & Sons in this issue who propose to give you special bargains for a few days.

Mr. Samuel Stanbaugh, who owns mining property in this county has been here this week looking over the same, accompanied by two other gentlemen.

There are five persons in jail here now charged with murder—four men and a boy, which is the largest number of this kind of prisoners it ever had at one time before.

W. H. Jones and R. C. Meaders, the finance committee of Lumpkin county, commenced work last Monday. J. B. Witt was appointed as the third one at the last term of court but he has located in Tennessee, leaving the two to perform the work.

A protracted meeting commenced at the Baptist church at this place this week which will last for some time. The pastor will be assisted a portion of the time by Rev. Mr. Adams, a very able divine from Newnan, who arrived in the city last Monday.

Some years ago a gentleman was given $125 by a book establishment to use his influence to have certain school books adopted by the board of education, so we are reliably informed by a party having knowledge of the fact. This is one reason we favor a uniform system of text books.

The battle ground where Grindle and Holeman were killed in this county attracted the attention of people from all parts of the country, who visit the place for miles around to see the dreadful sight. Grindles brains are scattered all around on the ground and even in the bushes, with a piece of his skull to be seen now and then, while the bushes for several feet on either side and five or six feet high Holeman's blood, where it gushed from him as he was running after being shot, and a pool of several gallons of blood still shows where he fell and died.

J. A. Kindel, formerly of Fannin county, but now of Lumpkin, was fined $20 and cost last Monday by Mayor Baker for selling liquor in Dahlonega. The violation occurred some time ago when he in company with another man from Fannin county brought a couple of kegs here for sale. After getting two negroes to assist them in hiding it they went to the Inn of Albert Coffee, col., and retired for the night. During the night his partner was arrested and lodged in jail by Marshal Grizzle on an old warrant and next morning when Mr. Kindel went to get a morning dram and resume business his liquor was gone.

The annual contest for speaker's place at commencement was held before the faculty at the college last week with the following result: B. Sub. Freshman class: P. L. Abbott, C. B. Collins, C. J. Foubler, Miss Grace Hightower, Miss Mary Hall, J. S. Hooks, F. A. Parks, Miss Lillie Prater, Miss Annie Bell Smith, W. C. Stanton. A. Sub. Freshman class: W. H. Buchalter, Dan M. Byrd, W. D. Drew, Wier Gaillard, Sherman Granger, Miss Jessie Head, J. F. McCrackin, Miss Eliza McAttee, O. W. Steed, W. F. Thomas, Freshman: J. F. Broach, R. A. Byers, J. H. Craig, H. W. Lewis, G. S. Rogers, G. T. Rowe, C. R. Sewell, T. G. Stokes, W. T. Townsend, G. T. Watts. Those from the Sophomore class have not yet been selected.

Corn has got down to the 80 cents notch again in Dahlonega.

A very interesting article will be found on the first side written by Dr. N. F. Howard.

The rich gold mining strikes made last week are receiving the interest of the people of Dahlonega.

Last Sunday a certain woman being afraid that no blockade liquor would come to town she went out into the country after it.

T. S. Smith wishes to remind you that he is still doing business at the old stand and sells at prices that will be of interest to you.

E. S. Copeland has renewed his ad. for another year. He finds it beneficial to advertise in the Nugget else he would not do so.

J. B. Witt has gone into business at McCays, Tenn. Jim is a good clever fellow and we dislike to give him up. His family is still here.

When visiting town with decayed teeth don't fail to go to the dental parlors of Dr. Groves and have them filled so as to make you look pretty and neat.

There is no use for any of the lecturers to come here and mimic a drunken man thinking that it will be of interest to us. We can see this frequently free of charge although it is a "dry town."

A couple of kegs of blockade liquor, which were seized by the revenue officials several days ago, were shipped to Atlanta last Friday where it will be sold and the proceeds of the sale put into Uncle Sams pocket.

Jones' Creek district, in this county is getting into bad shape. Nearly all have been violating the revenue laws and they are now repeating each other causing trouble and we fear that something more serious will occur.

It won't do to get tight to try escape working the streets when warned. A fellow tried this last week and was escorted to the calaboose by Marshal Harbison. Either work or pay when warned and you will keep out of trouble.

We ordered a new large job press last week which will be in and up in running order in a few days, enabling us to turn out large jobs as well as small ones. Then you can come or send and your work will be finished up promptly.

It is said that long mustache Bill Crane, who resides in the western portion of this county and has a couple of cases against him in the Superior Court, left out a few days ago for parts unknown to the joy of many of the people of his section.

It's got so when Deputy Marshal Grizzle seizes any liquor he has to keep it a secret. If he doesn't nearly every body in town gets sick and wants to get a little for medical purposes. He wants every one to enjoy good health is why he has adopted this plan.

Our office was visited by three ministers last week. Revs. Blackwell, Moreck and Dr. Howard. We are always glad to have a visit from such gentlemen as these "in time of peace," for it proves that they are not afraid to mix with sinners and printers. But you take one who only visits the wealthy and can never be seen only when he thinks there is a chance for a quarter or two, we don't go much on him.

Col. Charters, who was absent in Gainesville last week attending a special term of Hall Superior Court, prosecuting Pirkle and Slover for the murder of Mrs. Blake, says that it was the intention of a crowd to lynch them at Flowery Branch as they were being carried to Atlanta, but Judge Estes got wind of it and had them put on the vestibule which didn't stop until it reached Atlanta, and it was a great disappointment to the mob. The verdict of recommending the boy for mercy seemed to be satisfactory, but that of the man didn't. The evidence against him was strong enough for a hanging.

Some more houses to rent. Apply to M. J. Williams.

A good four-room dwelling to rent by W. J. Hightower.

Mr. Ferguson's reply to Voter will appear in our next issue.

At M. G. Head's lumber yard you will find a nice lot of ceiling.

When in Gainesville call on N. N. Littlefield for your high grade Guano and Acids at the lowest

Now subscribers still continue to come in. They want the news while it is fresh and a heap of it is why they center on the Nugget

Last weeks cold snap didn't kill all the peaches. If there is no other trouble we will have plenty of fruit this year.

The city council placing such a heavy tax on dogs has caused some to move out and the town loses both their dog and street tax.

Last Monday Miss Grace Valentine, who has been on a visit to her sister, Mrs. W. B. Fry, for several months, left for her home at Evanston, Ill.

If you are not already a subscriber to the Nugget and want a good wide awake paper, the best in town call in and drop a "dollar in the slot" and you will get one every week.

The NUGGET gave the result of the murder trial in Gainesville last week before any other paper in Georgia. It's only a weekly but this is one time it got ahead of all the great dailies.

By reference to the first page you will find that there is a good deal of business for court next week, especially state cases, saying nothing of that which has to be looked after by the grand jury.

Dr. N. F. Howard has placed all his notes and accounts in the hands of W. J. Worley for collection, who requests all those due the doctor anything to please come forward and settle at once.

A patron of the NUGGET writes us from Lebanon, Ga., that M. P. Morris, of that place has a pipe that was picked up on the battle ground at the Seven Points, which is as nice and pretty as ever.

For SALE.—A nice well finished three room house together with half acre lot in Dahlonega. Also a forty acre lot including the mineral within a mile of Dahlonega. Apply to James Phillips, Dahlonega, Ga.

Since our last issue Jones' district has been well represented in Commissioner Bakers court at this place. Jack Turner, Jerry Black and John Lingerfelt being the unfortunate ones, all of whom were bound over for having violated the Internal revenue law.

The witnesses in the Bob Long murder case are being summoned to appear on Wednesday of next week. There are thirteen non resident witnesses in this case. A call term will likely be convened in May to try the other four murderers, on account of court convening at Dawsonville next week.

The roads of the county are being worked out this week so as to meet the approval of the grand jury. The roads are generally pretty fair twice a year but the only way to have them kept so would require the convening of court and the meeting of the grand jury every month or so. Generally when a hole washes out in the road people go round it until just before court.

In last weeks issue we stated that Uncle Mart Hashaw was 92 and the oldest negro in Dahlonega. Uncle Dick Anderson comes forward now and says that he is this old if not older. He was brought here from Virginia and he says he can remember all the presidents back to 1834. Notwithstanding Uncle Dicks old age he makes a lying by cutting wood and when a woman of his color comes around he talks and smiles as pleasant as if he was only sixteen, in fact some times he speaks or marries.

See notice of D. Howell and J. T. Miller dissolving copartnership elsewhere.

The new Presbyterian church bell was put in position last Saturday. It is a large one and sounds well.

Mr. Bramlet, who married D. W. Caldwell's daughter in this county, killed a man named Bishop at Elkhart the other day.

The last lecture at the college Saturday night by J. W. Macy is said to be the best one that has been delivered here yet.

Both hot and cold lunches will be served next week at the stand between the Meaders and Moore Bros stables on Warwick street.

Capt. Ingersoll is having the Dahlonega Gold Mining and Milling Co's property, known as the Horner mine near Dahlonega opened up.

Col. Farrow phones us that he would like to learn the name of the young man who went up to Porter Springs last Saturday and misbehaved so badly.

It is not expected that Harris Postell, who was so badly burned down at Comer, Ga., will live. He is in a bad condition and has suffered untold agony.

Quite a number of northern capitalists are in the city, some of them accompanied by their wives, looking at the mines. We hope their visit will be a pleasant and happy one.

Col. J. H. Moore had two men engaged the other day in beating some gold ore for the purpose of getting ten pennypoints to make a Confederate badge. He wants to wear one he says, made entirely of Dahlonegas gold.

Officers of the Lumpkin County Quarry Club. President, Hon W. P. Price. Vice President, Wilbern Colvin. Secretary, R. C. Meaders. Treasurer, J. V. Harbison. Executive Committee, the above officers and Col. R. M. Bryson, J. E. McGee and Rev. A. M. Pierce.

A. J. Anderson, of McKee, Ga., has recovered from small pox. In renewing his subscription this week he says: "Your paper was all the past time I had while I had the small pox. I am up and now at my post, and I think out of all danger of having it any more or giving it to any one."

Jack Turner and Jerry Black, charged with blockading, were both carried off to Atlanta last Sunday in default of a bond. Jerry is a witness in the Long murder case for the defendant and will have to be brought back when the case is tried. First riding at the expense of Uncle Sam and second at the expense of this county.

The state oratorical contest comes off in Atlanta next Friday night and the N. G. A. College will be largely represented, by students deeply interested who will accompany Mr. Grant, the speaker, selected from this institution. He is a bright young man and an able speaker and stands a good chance of winning the victory.

Just after the church bell rang for services last Wednesday a countryman and woman were seen slipping from a bottle on a bench in front of a certain store. He said it was colder and the best he ever tasted. Surely it must to have had some knock out drops in it for in a short while he lit a cigar and put the center of it in his mouth and talked quite lively until they departed.

The finance committee of Lumpkin county completed its work last Wednesday after making an investigation of only three days, and found only about thirty dollars in the treasury and quite a large sum due by the county. This $30 is a small amount for so many people to have an interest in. More than this amount will be spent during the present campaign by some of the candidates for liquor.

A DOUBLE MURDER.

Both Pierce Grindle and Wm. Holeman are Killed.

Last Friday afternoon Lewis Christy of Crumbeys' district came into town for the coroner and a physician, stating that two men were killed and another mortally wounded. It was not long till Coroner McGuire and Dr. C. H. Jones were on the ground and there beheld one of the most horrible sights ever taking place in Lumpkin county. It was near Pierce Grindles house whose lifeless form lay there, shot in the head and one side of it gone and his brains scattered for some distance around on the ground and bushes. Near by was William Holeman with a large hole in his breast and a part of his lungs exposed whose blood stained the ground from where he ran after being shot to the place he fell and breathed his last. Tom Beasley had been carried home in a serious condition having been cut, shot and struck on the head with a hand hammer.

There had been bad blood between the dead parties and the Beasleys for some time and from the weapons—a breach loading shot gun, pistol, knife, hand hammer, pitchfork and a pick—it seems that Friday was a day set apart for a settlement.

It is said that Tom Beasley and Pierce Grindle first got into it, and that brought Will Holeman, a cousin of Grindle, and Beasley two sons, John and Ben into it, when cutting, knocking and shooting commenced. And when the smoke cleared away Tom Beasley was shot in the thigh besides a dangerous wound on the head from a hand hammer. Pierce Grindle died on the spot and Holeman ran off a few feet after being shot and died with an open knife in his hand.

Ben and John Beasley left out and it is said that one of them is badly out. So far both have escaped arrest. Little Joe Beasley, only thirteen years old was brought to town and lodged in jail, charged with taking a hand in this horrible affair, but says that he knows nothing about it. There are many conflicting reports but we give the following testimony of the two only eye witnesses before the coroners jury and our readers can judge for themselves:

J. W. Grindle sworn says: I was at the home of Pierce Grindle and all I know about the death is, Pierce went to the shop and the first time I saw him after he left the house he came to the draw bars and I saw Holeman come up. Beasley came up on a horse or mule. I saw Pierce start out across a small patch of woods. I saw John Beasley come up and shooting commenced. I do not know who did the shooting.

John Grindle, son of Pierce Grindle, sworn says: I was at the house about 100 yards away and saw Joe Grindle shoot at Holeman three times with a pistol. I also saw John, Ben and W. T. Beasley. I cannot remember hearing shot gun firing but one time.

Benj. Grindle, son of Pierce Grindle on oath says: Pierce Grindle (pa) and myself had gone to the shop after dinner and we had come back to the draw bars. Holeman was there sitting on the fence. John Beasley, Tom Beasley and Ben Beasley came up. Pa told them not to go through the field—that if they would take the brush out of the road they could come through as they had always done. Tom Beasley then drew a pick on pa, he dropped his hammer and took hold of the pack. Holeman tried to keep them from fighting. Then Ben Beasley shot pa with a pistol and John Beasley shot him with a single barrel breach loading shot gun. I don't know who shot Holeman. Pa commenced hollering when hit with the pistol ball. The Beasley boys then left across the hill. I don't know who shot W. T. Beasley. Tom Beasley had a pitchfork and a pick and pa had a shop hammer, same one found on the ground where fight occurred.

John Grindle (son of Pierce Grindle) sworn says: I was at the house about 100 yards away and saw Joe Beasley shoot at Holeman three times with a pistol. I also saw John, Ben and W. T. Beasley. I cannot remember hearing shot gun fired but one time.

Since pointing the above Ben, John and Tom Beasley surrendered to the sheriff last Monday and all are now in jail together with the little boy, Joe Beasley, charged with murder. Ben Beasley is cut in the thigh and John has a knife wound in the back. Cols. Lilly and Baker have been employed for the defense who are now busy preparing to make a fight to save their lives.

This is the worst affair that ever occurred in Lumpkin county, and it is deeply regretted by every citizen within its borders. It is sad enough for these grown persons to be charged with murder, but when it comes to a little thirteen year-old-boy to have to be handcuffed and brought to prison with this much offense against him it is still much sadder and should be a warning to all—both old and young.

Mining Notes.

Bony Tank is still engaged in development work down on the Stegall property with good results.

Roberts and Chester have suspended their work of turning the waters of the Cano Creek down at the Gordon on account of its costing more to do the job than they first calculated.

At Cavenders Creek the engine proved to be too small to run the crusher and another has been ordered. Some ten or twelve hands are repairing the mill and doing other work.

Both the stamp and Huntington mills have been running regularly both day and night since the new gear wheel was put in several days ago, and the plates are showing up to the perfect satisfaction of the managers at Crown Mountain. Ten additional stamps are being added which will make 70 stamps besides 3 Huntingtons.

Mr. Bush and Mr. Disney, of Chicago, who are interested in the Briar Patch mine, were down last week looking over the property, accompanied by Dr. Blair and Dr. Bookins from the same city. While here they also visited the Crown Mountain operations and after a careful survey of the mining field of this section expressed themselves as being highly pleased with the outlook, and it may be that both will make an investment in Lumpkin county in the near future.

M. Chester is doing some prospecting on the Singleton property owned by the Standard. Mr. Chester is thoroughly acquainted with this property and if he fails to make it interesting to its owners there is but little use of any body else trying. No longer than last Sunday we heard a citizen remark that there was no better miner in this country than this gentleman. And this is the kind of a person it takes to make an success of the business. Those who have been experimenting with the western miners and had to fall back on the Georgia diggers will doubtless bear us out in this assertion.

The ore at the Beaming is still good. Likewise with the Hand—both owned by the Consolidated Co. Since the Company has adopted the Georgia system of mining and done away with the kid gloves experts and novel reading bosses and put native men of experience both in the mill and mine it has proved to be a profitable business, causing all parties interested to show a more pleasing appearance than a few months ago when thousands of dollars were being paid out and nothing coming in. The wealthiest men in the world would get tired of it. The chlorination plant is running on some rich sulphurates and a big clean up is expected when they get through. Everything presents a bright business like appearance down about the Hand now and there is no reason of its not continuing so for years to come.

The Confederate Flag in Samoa.

From the South Pacific—from Samoa—comes a curious, pathetic story of depotion to the "Lost Cause," and even the least susceptible reader must wonder who the unknown ex-Confederate was and what was his history.

The Samoans are experts at rowing and sailing—from which fact Bougainville, the French discoverer, called their country the Navigators' Islands—and since the advent of the white man every Samoan boat must have its flag. Just what the flag represents is not so important a question.

Sitting in the cool of his porch over looking the bay one afternoon during his term as Land Commissioner, ex-Chief Justice Chambers, of Samoa, saw a boat approaching the shore flying a flag the sight which struck him at once with peculiar interest. It was none other than the Stars and Bars of the Southern Confederacy. What could it be doing, wondered he, in the South Pacific—and so long after Appomattox? He determined to learn the history of the flag and get possession of it.

But, meeting the boat as it landed, he found the owner by no means willing to part with his flag. The offer of the "American chief," to buy it was promptly, though politely, declined.

Then the Justice tried a little diplomacy; he took the boatman into a store and bought for him a bolt of calico and then a kit of mackerel—which delighted the Samoan, to whom they were luxuries. But the native still insisted that he could not part with his flag.

"It would not be right for me to give it to you," said he, in such a manner as to show that some deep feeling was involved.

"But why? Where did get it? And why do you value it so highly?" asked Mr. Chambers.

"Well, I will tell you," answered the Samoan, "A long time ago a man came to Samoa from far off in America—where you came from. He was not a sailor but told me he had been a soldier. He was my friend, and lived at my house. But after a while he got sick; and one day he said to me: 'Tasi, look in my bag there and get out my flag, and put it up on the wall where I can see it.'"

I did so; and he would lie there and look at it and look at it. Says several days afterward he grew worse. He called me to him and said:

"Tasi, I am going to die. I am far away from home and my people. This flag is all I have in the world; you have been my friend; I give it to you. Keep it as long as you live. Don't give it to anybody—and whatever you do, don't you ever let a Yankee have it."

"No, my chief, I cannot part with this flag—not till I die."—Saturday Evening Post.

The funeral of Johnnie Gaddis will be preached on the 2nd Sunday in May at Pleasant Hill church by Revs. John W. Rider and J. J. Shed.

Blockaders if caught selling liquor in Dahlonega by the city authorities will not find it a very profitable business, for Mayor Baker says he is determined to stop it if possible.

The recent valuable discoveries at the various mines in Lumpkin county and the profitable work that is going on here now is attracting the attention of visitors from both far and near.

Mr. Ferguson's Reply.

ED. NUGGET:

I see a piece in the NUGGET of the 11th inst., which I wish to reply to. The writer of that article either through ignorance or purpose misrepresented me.

Falschod No. 1. In the first place I didn't know to what denomination, Estill or Guerry belonged. Would not have not known what Terrell's denomination was had it not been for Mr. Prater's talk and Col. Prices. Col. Price was talking for Guerry and Prater said he was going to vote for Terrell. Col. Price said he is a leading member of your church but thought men ought to vote for principal and not for denominations, or words to that amount. While at Mt. Zion in the presence of John Montgomery and perhaps two or three more I asked who the people up there would likely support for governor and stated the talk between Col Price and Prater, and went on to say that people ought to vote for principal instead of parties or denominations. While we were talking Samuel Montgomery said Mr. Guerry favored prohibition, and I said that was the reason I was going to vote for him. If Estill's name was mentioned I do not now recollect it. If it was I positively know that I did not say a thing against the man, or that he was a Methodist, for I did not know what he was.

Falschod No. 2. The Methodist church never did turn me out for misconduct. It is true they failed to renew my license at the Quarterly Conference. It is true there was a report against me. I tried to get the conference through the preacher to investigate the case. I had witnesses they did not want to hear. They treated me mean. I could not stay with them. They did not want to give me up, and after I called for a letter the preacher put me off near three months and tried to reason with me to stay with them, and since that two of their preachers have tried to get me back and allow me all the privileges conferred upon me by the Baptist.

Yes, I quit the Methodist church and never have regretted it. The Baptist have some failings. They are too slack on discipline, especially on the whiskey question. I am glad that in the great day of accounts I am to be judged by the Righteous Judge who knows all about it. I guess Cornet the man who wrote the article about me is guilty of the crime he wants to accuse me of. Some people want to slander others in order to get on a high seat themselves. I am glad that the good Lord prepares a feast for the righteous in the presence of their enemies.

C. M. FERGUSON.

P. S.—The quarterly conference passed upon my character but failed to renew my license, but said they would at most any time. That has been 16 years ago. The church granted me a certificate of dismission in full fellowship.

C. M. F.

Don't send your money off for a cheap paper and depend upon borrowing your neighbors in order to get the county news. Preachers sometimes do this. It is just as wrong for a preacher to keep up this business as any one else.

Most every farmer is behind with their work in this county owing to so much unfavorable weather.

The wife of old Uncle Jackie Grizzle, who lived in Nimbldwell district died one day last week.

Constitution of the Lumpkin County Guerry Club.

Article 1. This organization shall be known as the Lumpkin County Guerry Club.

Art. 2. Its object to secure the nomination and election of Hon. Dupont Guerry to be the next Governor of the state of Georgia. To this end of the Club will especially endeavor to carry Lumpkin county for Mr. Guerry.

Art. 3. Membership in the Club shall consist in endorsing the object of the Club and signing this constitution.

Art. 4. The officers of the Club shall be a President, a Secretary, and a Treasurer. These officers, and three others so selected, shall constitute the Executive Committee of the Club.

5. The duties of said officers shall be such as usually appertain to such.

Art. 6. The official term of said officers shall be until after the next state election, and until their successors are elected.

Art. 7. The work of the Club shall be to agitate, educate, and organize for the election of Mr. Guerry, by means of public meetings, distributing literature, organizing branch Clubs wherever possible, seeing that voters register and go to the polls, and by any and all other lawful and patriotic means.

Art. 8. The revenues of the Club shall be raised by voluntary contribution.

Art. 9. No money shall be spent, and no obligations shall be contracted by the Club, except as authorized by a majority vote of the members present at a business meeting, or as authorized by two-thirds of the Executive committee.

Art. 10. In all business meetings, one of the four officers and ten other members shall constitute a quorum.

Art. 11. The ordinary rules of parliamentary practice shall govern in all meetings.

The South American Cowboy.

As the firelight shows them in the darkness of the hour that precedes the dawn, they are swarthy of complexion, dark-eyed, slight of figure, clean of build. They remind you of Gypsies, also of Moors, and in their veins flows the blood of the Indians who once owned the pampa and lost it to the Spaniards. There is a Spanish blood in them, too. The flourish with which he touches his hat, the grace with which he waves you to a stool made of a cow skull, the grave hospitality with which he hands you the teacup, the politeness with which he receives your remarks about the weather—everything about him when he is at his best has a Spanish suggestiveness. But still the guacho is not a Spaniard. The pampa looks out of his eyes, is in his voice, his dress, his manner. The wilderness speaks to all who love it and teaches them things which make different from other men.—William Balin, in the World's Work.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, APRIL 26, 1902.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second-Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

Thos. B. Watson is engaged in writing a history of the United States.

By request we publish the Constitution and by laws of the Guer-ry club organized in this county to be found elsewhere.

The "devil" had full control of most of the country offices last week while the editors were absent at the Charleston exposition.

Down at Adairsville, Ga., two English horseman's pistols have been unearthed at a distance of 40 feet by parties while digging a well.

Mr. Stevens, the present com-missioner of agriculture, has made a splendid official, and we don't be-lieve the people of Georgia are go-ing to turn him out of office.

Judge Chandler had a fellow to pay four hundred dollars for play-ing cards in Atlanta last week. So you will observe that gaming in that city is not very profitable when the Judge finds it out.

Deputy Collector Spence, who is well known in Dahlonega, ac-cidentally shot himself in the left leg near Ellijay the other day while preparing to shoot at a wild turkey on his return from a reve-nue raid.

Mrs. Duncan, who killed her husband in Atlanta some time ago, fainted last week while she was being tried and the Judge ordered a mistrial. Her awful cries and screams and calling for her dead husband affected the Judge and every one present.

Having been asked if some of the candidates for county off-icers here were not on the pension list we made an examination and found that not a single man on the list was asking for office, although being on the pension list does de-bar them if they see proper to make a race for an office.

There were no candidates for governor up at Cleveland last week nevertheless the people had a lively time. On Tuesday nearly everybody got drunk, a fight or two occurred and the grand jury after four days session found 26 true bills and could have returned a hundred, so it is said. There are three camp grounds in that county—two whites and one colored and something always occurs at these places to help keep up the courts.

The democratic executive com-mittee of Lumpkin county was called together here last Monday in Col. Charter's office by chair-man John Brooksher, who resigns on account of being a candi-date. Daniel Davis acted as chair-man of this meeting and M. J. Williams was elected permanent chairman. The primary for the county officers was fixed on the same day of the state officials—June 5th.

Col. Estill made Dahlonega his first visit this week, who spent a day and a half in the city and was met by many of his friends and old soldiers. The Colonel makes a good impression wherever he goes and his visit to this place has gained him many votes. The tide is changing here considerably and it may be that he will carry the county. His little talk in the court house was listened to by a large number of people with much interest.

Col. Guerry, the temperance candidate for governor, made a speech here last Monday, which was listened to by a very good audience, but it he made any votes we have not heard of them. The legislature and nearly everything else but him had been doing wrong and strange to think that he did not say anything about it until he put on a candidates robe. Mr. Guerry will get a very good vote here in town among his temper-ance advocates but will not do much in the country.

Important Democratic Meet-ing.

DAHLONEGA, Ga., April 21, 1902.

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the Democratic party of Lumpkin county was this day held pursuant to call.

Chairman J. M. Brooksher called the meeting to order, and upon call of roll by secretary J. E. McGee it was ascertained that 13 out of the 16 districts of the county was represented, proxies appeared for others. J. M. Brooksher chairman stated that being a candi-date for a county office he felt it proper to tender his resignation and the same was duly accepted. Hon. Daniel Davis was elected chair-man of this meeting.

E. J. Walden committeeman from Cane Creek district being a candidate for a county office tend-ered his resignation and the same being accepted, Martin Bryant was elected a committeeman in his place.

Upon motion the annexed resolu-tion was unanimously adopted. Upon motion M. J. Williams was unanimously elected permanent chairman of this committee.

There being no further business on motion the meeting adjourned.

DANIEL DAVIS,
Chairman.

J. E. McGEE,
Secretary.

It is hereby resolved by the Democratic Executive Committee of Lumpkin county:

(1) That in pursuance of in-structions passed by the State Demo-cratic Committee held March 29, 1902 a general primary election be held in said county of Lumpkin on the 5th day of June 1902 for the purpose of selecting democratic candidates for Governor, Secretary of State, Comptroller General, State Treasurer, Attorney General, State School Commissioner, Com-missioner of Agriculture, Prison Commissioner, two Associates Justices of the Supreme Court, Judge of the Superior Court, Solicitor for the Northeastern Circuit, Solicitor General for the Northeastern Cir-cuit, and that on the same ballot the voter shall be given the op-portunity to express his choice for United States Senator.

(2) It is further ordered that on said 5th day of June 1902 and at the same time and under the same rules and regulations there shall be held in said county of Lump-kin a general primary election for the purpose of selecting a candi-date for the Legislature, for Clerk of the Superior Court, Sheriff, Tax Collector, Tax Receiver, Treasurer, County Surveyor and Coroner.

(3) It is ordered further that no one shall be allowed to vote for the above named officers except qualified white democratic voters who have registered in the year 1901 or before the 26th of May 1902.

(4) The Executive Committee of each district are hereby ap-pointed managers of said election in their respective districts and authorized to appoint such assis-tants as they may deem necessary in holding said election and upon failure of any of said committeeman to act or make the appoint-ments any three qualified white democratic voters of said district may hold the election. The se-cretary of this committee is hereby instructed to furnish the man-agers at each voting place with a list of the qualified white voters of each district, said list except in Dahlonega district to be confined to the white qualified voters of said district and in said Dahlo-nega district to be a list of white voters of the entire county.

(5) It is further ordered that the secretary of this committee shall furnish the managers of each voting place with such blanks as may be necessary in holding said election.

(6) It is further ordered that in the event the Democratic Ex-ecutive committee of the Ninth Congressional District of Georgia, shall order a primary election for the selection of a democratic candi-date for Congress on said 5th day of June 1902, that such election shall be consolidated with the other elections herein before provided for.

(7) It is further ordered that the secretary of this committee in conjunction with the chairman shall have a ballot prepared con-taining a list of the names of all of said state house offices, and all candidates for United States Sena-tor and all candidates for Con-gress, should said Congressional Primary be ordered on the same day, and all candidates for Judge of the Superior Court for said Northeastern Circuit, and for Soli-citor General and for all said county offices and shall have at least fifteen hundred copies thereof printed and distributed to the managers of said election at each precinct before said election; said managers to furnish the same to the voters, as they may desire them and distribute the same among the respective candidates.

(8) Each and every voter shall be required to use the ballot thus prepared and are to strike from the ballot all the names of the candidates except the one for whom he desires to cast his vote. No ticket shall be counted by the managers except the one herein provided for.

(9) Said voters are required to vote in the precinct in which he lives except those now excepted by the general election law.

(10) It is further ordered that said primary election shall be held under the provisions of the general primary election law of this State.

(11) It is further ordered that all white voters without regard to past political affiliations, who de-sire to align themselves with the democratic party, and who, if their right to participate in said election be challenged, pledge themselves to support the nomi-nees of the democratic party are hereby entitled to vote therein and are cordially invited to do so.

(12) It is further ordered that the managers of the various pre-cincts shall make their returns to the secretary of the Executive Committee at the court house in Dahlonega by twelve o'clock on the 6th day of June 1902; and it is further ordered that said ex-ecutive committee shall meet at twelve o'clock on said 6th day of June, 1902 to consolidate the re-turns and declare the result of said election—and for the transac-tion of such other business as may come before it.

(13) In order to defray the ex-penses of said election it is or-dered that on or before the 25th day of May 1902, that the candi-dates to be voted for at said elec-tion shall pay to the secretary of this committee the following sums respectively: each candidate for congress $15.00; each candidate for judge of the Superior Court $10.00; each candidate for solici-tor general $10.00; and each candi-date for the legislature $5.00; each candidate for clerk of the Superior Court $5.00; each candidate for sheriff $5.00; each candidate for tax collector $4.00; each candidate for tax receiver $3.00; each candi-date for treasurer $3.00; each candidate for county surveyor $2.00; and each candidate for coroner $2.00, and it is provided that said secretary and chairman in preparing said ballot shall not insert in said ballot the name of any candidate who fails or refuses to pay said assessment.

(14) It is hereby ordered that a general mass meeting of the demo-crats of Lumpkin county be called to meet at the court house in Dahlonega on the 5th day of June 1902 at two o'clock p. m. for the purpose of selecting a new ex-ecutive committee and for the transaction of such other business as may come before said meeting.

(15) It is further ordered that the managers of each voting place shall have a list of the qualified white voters of each district, said list except in Dahlonega district to be confined to the white qualified voters of said district and in said Dahlo-nega district to be a list of white voters of the entire county.

(16) It is further ordered that the secretary of this committee shall furnish the managers of each voting place with such blanks as may be necessary in holding said election.

(17) It is further ordered that in the event the Democratic Ex-ecutive committee of the Ninth Congressional District of Georgia, shall order a primary election for the selection of a democratic candi-date for Congress on said 5th day of June 1902, that such elec-

It is said that W. E. Crockett of Gainesville, has been in Washin-gton city making an effort to get the appointment of Internal Re-venue Collector in place of Rucker, the negro.

Mr. Guerry has been in the legislature and why didn't he say something about its wrongs that he mentions so much now. Then he might have remedied some of them. Now he can't.

Hon. W. H. Courtney, of White spent a few days in Dahlonega this week who said that he was going to return home, register and vote for Col. Estill. The prominent men are all falling in line.

To THE PUBLIC.—I wish to say that the report that I supported a bill in the last legislature to tax syrup mills is false. There was no such bill introduced nor even thought of.

G. D. BRUCE. Frank Little, who is charged with misdemeanor and forfeited his bond at the last term of Lump-kin Superior Court, was brought back from South Carolina this week by direction of his bondmen.

The announcement of Col. R. M. Bryson appears in the issue. Mr. Bryson came to this county some years ago from Dawson. He is a very successful young lawyer who is well known to you all and would do his utmost to please the people if elected.

Let it Alone.

Scott's Emulsion is not a good medicine for fat folks. We have never tried giving it to a real fat person. We don't dare. You see Scott's Emul-sion builds new flesh. Fat people don't want it. Strong people don't need it.

But if you are thin Scott's Emulsion is the medicine for you. It doesn't tire you out. There is no strain. The work is all natural and easy. You just take the medicine and that's all there is to it.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, APRIL 25, 1902.

Some more houses to rent. Apply to M. J. Williams.

A good deal of matter crowded out this week, nothing sensational however.

Mr. Row Patterson and Miss Lilly Bracket married Sunday night near Auraria.

Our office had a pleasant visit from Mr. Huntley, of Jacksonville, Ill., last Wednesday.

The little five months old child of Wm. Worley (T. H. Worley's son) was found dead in bed last Wednesday morning.

Price & Reese opposite the court house will buy your jury scrip and pay you either trade or cash.

When in Gainesville call on N. N. Littlefield for your high grade Guano and Acids at the lowest price.

Non residents in making remittance to the Nugget will observe when it is received by watching the date on their paper.

All our patrons say the Nugget is the best paper ever published in Lumpkin county. Subscribe for it and if you fail to find this true your money will be refunded.

A wedding occurred up in Chestate district a few days ago, the contracting parties being Mr. Kirk Henson and Miss Nerva Rayan, a daughter of Mr. Ben Rayan.

Capt. Cusick has had the target removed to a safe place beyond the cemetery where if the school boys miss the target they will strike the hill and endanger the lives of no one.

Peter Woody was arrested on a warrant last week sworn out by John Norrell who charged him with trespassing. Peter waved examination and made bond for his appearance at court this week.

Our new large job press has been received. Now call this way when you need either a large or small job done. Remember that we keep a good supply of all kinds of stationery and can fix you up in good style and upon short notice and at reasonable prices.

Candidates, we would like for you all to announce your names through the columns of the Nugget, but if you do not see proper to do so we will not say or write word against you, like some newspaper men do. It is your privilege to act as you please and we will not try to take any advantage of you because you are a candidate.

Mr. Merrick, lady and daughter of Pennsylvania, who have been spending the winter in Florida, came to Dahlonega last week for the purpose of remaining in the golden city of the mountains a couple of weeks or more. Mr. Merrick has gold mining interests here and says that he wants to look round more this time as he didn't have the spare time during his other two visits.

The log house with a stick and clay chimney in which ex-Gov. Joseph E. Brown used to live while a boy long years ago, is still standing in this county up in Hightower district next to the foot of the Blue Ridge. The dwelling is in good condition and occupied, having the same chimney it did while this distinguished gentleman now deceased used to run round while playing hide and hoop with other barefooted boys.

John Stringer of this county, who sold his farm to Rev. W. G. Spencer and went out west a few weeks ago in search of better location, has returned disappointed. Fortunately Mr. Stringer didn't carry his family with him. This is the third trip he has made west for this purpose and doubtless he is now satisfied to remain the rest of his days on the old red hills of Georgia. Take it on an average and it is as good as any place on earth. It may have some disadvantages in some respects but this is made up in others.

A good four room dwelling to rent by W. J. Hightower.

At last we are having some warm spring like weather.

The several new announcements will receive an extra "touch up" next week. Too much crowded this week.

Really we have received more new subscribers this week than we expected, saying nothing of the renewals. Thanks.

Col. Estill while here this week purchased a sword and tendered it to Cadet Maj. Joe Byers of the N. G. A. College.

Everybody and their cousins have been here this week and the candidates have had a good chance to meet the "dear people."

Our friend Will Childers returned and didn't go to Colorado as he intended a few days ago. No doubt this was a wise conclusion.

Jim Woody, of this county, was bound over to the U. S. Court in Atlanta last Saturday by Com. Baker charged with violating the internal revenue law.

Since the death of Pierce Grindle Capt. Asbury and others who recently purchased his land have deeded it back to his wife free of charge during her life or widowhood.

Judge Kinsey, the only candidate for judge in this circuit, has been here this week mixing and mingling with the people. Judge Kinsey is always a clever, sociable gentleman, he is a "private" or an "office" is why he has so many friends.

Last Saturday the members of Mt. Pisgah church, in this county, met and selected Rev. James Nix of White county as their pastor. They had one—Rev. D. W. Caldwell—but he was "spiritually" blessed some time ago causing charges to be preferred against him.

Rev. Mr. Adams, of Newnan, who has been here for a week assisting in the protracted meeting at the Baptist church left for his home last Sunday afternoon. He is a great preacher and did much good while in Dahlonega. His sermons were listened to with great interest by all denominations.

At H. D. Gurley you will find the old reliable Hammer Brand paint at $1.25 per gallon ready for use. Big reduction in the price of clothing, and the biggest line of shoes in the market at very low prices. All canned fruits will be closed out at cost. Call and get some of his bargains before it is too late.

We are informed that a few Sundays ago after religious services had closed at a certain church in the country, some of the congregation went at a near by house and danced by the music of an accordion played by a young lady. The Bible says there is a time for all things but we think that the program on this occasion was considerably mixed.

Col. W. P. Price left Wednesday for Athens, Ga., where he goes to attend the educational meeting called by a committee of gentlemen from the north. Thousands of dollars have been raised for our northern friends to be used for educational purposes in the south recently and the object of this meeting is to consult with leading southern citizens as to ascertain how and where this money can be used to the best advantage for the white people.

Henry Thomas, colored, who has been wanting to marry so long has at last succeeded in finding one who is willing to travel with him the rest of her life a foot, for not long since he sold his cart so as to prepare for marriage and the gal went back on him after he got his license and he returned then to the ordinary with tears in his eyes as big as coffee grains. But this time he is all right. Last Saturday he procured another set of license and Sunday night the knot was tied and now their hearts are beating as one and they both look as happy as dead pigs in the sun shine.

At M. G. Head's lumber yard you will find a nice lot of ceiling.

Joshua White of this county, 68 years of age, has 89 living grand children.

Col. Darnell, of Jasper, Ga., was here this week for the first time in several years.

There has certainly been a lot of business transacted in the Superior Court here this week.

Miss Ada Wilson was wedded to Mr. Elisha Hix near Auraria Ga., by Rev. J. N. Austin this week.

Hon. W. H. McAfee gave the public a short talk at the court house Tuesday during noon hour.

To-morrow (Saturday) is memorial day, but so far we have learned of no preparations being made here to observe it. If it is missed it will be the first time.

After printing our first issue we got out a lot of half sheets for the use of the democratic executive committee of this county, containing the rules for the primary.

The services at the Baptist church closed last Sunday evening. Although but one person joined the church much good has been accomplished by this seven days meeting.

Last Monday while Col. Estill was in Dahlonega he visited the Nugget office and looked about with interest. He is an old printer and nothing in this line escapes his notice.

The article of voter recently published in the Nugget is being widely circulated. It was first copied in the Macon Telegraph and has since appeared in some of the New York papers.

Capt. Asbury of White county was in the city last Tuesday and says that he is "teeth and toe nails" for Col. Estill for governor. This means that Col. Estill will get many votes in that county.

At J. F. Moores you will find a splendid line of mens summer underwear. Also 4 A roasted coffee in one pound packages at 10 cents per pound. And screen windows, and wire for doors.

Preacher Coffee, colored, while here Sunday heard some of his brothers playing the guitar and dancing during the day. And when services opened they heard from him. He called them "Baptist drunkards" at the top of his voice.

Some of the school boys came near having trouble at the college last Monday on account of the appointment of Craig and Whitehead as two of the commencement speakers a few days ago being recinded. For what cause we did not learn.

The Phi Mu Society has elected Prof. Carl W. Stead to give its annual address. Prof. Stead on Monday night May 5th, at 8 p. m., will give a most thoughtful and humorous lecture. His subject is "The Sense Preservation of Sense." Everybody invited to come out and hear him.

Last Saturday night while some of the dark town "society belles" were out in company with a serenading crowd composed of whites and negroes a row occurred among some of the women who drew knives and put on a manly appearance in this manner for awhile. This occurred just before day on the streets while most every body were dreaming sweet dreams.

We are making a special run of pants, shoes and hats for the next 80 days and ask that you come and look through our line. Can also give you these goods and prices: Clothes pins 2 doz. for 5 cents. M. J. Williams is foreman of the grand jury this week.

A few days ago Mr. Sam Seabolt of Hall was married to Miss Linda Cook of this county.

We have a letter from Prof. A. W. Cain, of Texas, which we will publish week after next, throwing some light on the subject of uniformity of school books.

G. H. McGuire's new patented plow is attracting much attention among the farmers here this week. It is a good invention and is going to realize its owner much money.

One of the Motes last Monday sent in a messenger to ascertain if he would be wanted as a witness at whose house there were five cases of small pox. He was excused.

About 40 or 50 cadets of the college will accompany Mr. Grant, the speaker selected from the N. G. A. College, to Atlanta to-day (Friday), under the command of Maj. Byers.

The other day Virge Parks of this county shared two one-year-old lambs and got thirteen pounds of wool. Doesn't this prove that wool raising is a profitable business in this county.

Your attention is called to the ad. of J. M. Ricketts in another column, who has recently opened out a barber shop in the building between the Hall House and old drug store stand.

Among the Kentuckians who have been in the city this week are D. C. Dougherty, and his beautiful and accomplished daughter, Miss Martha Dougherty, D. McDonald and Gen. T. D. Harden.

Charlie Crisson has recovered from small pox and just about the time the city council was going to raise the quarantine at his fathers house last Monday a new case developed, being E. E. Crisson.

Remember to-morrow (Friday) is the last day of our 10 per cent discount sale on all purchases of $1.00 and over. We will give 10 per cent off to-morrow. The price is in plain figures and already low. B. R. MEADERS & SONS.

More than one of the "society bells" have left out till court adjourns for fear of their conduct being brought before the grand jury. But their leaving does not prevent this body from taking action and it may be that a warrant will be ready for some of them when they return.

Bub Walker whose death we mentioned as occurring in Arizona on the 4th inst, was killed by falling from a tank while at work. He fell about 30 feet and was killed at once, and buried by the Miners Union of which he belonged. He was a son of G. W. Walker of Porter Springs.

The young ladies of the Corona Society had a box supper at the court house last Saturday night for the purpose of raising money to fit up their hall at the college and met with success. All seemed to have hands full of money causing the boxes to go high, one bringing $12.50, the entire sale amounting to more than $75.

Nimblewill district had a kind of a sensation a few Sundays ago. A lot of people met at a singing and eight of the young ladies present fell out about their sweet hearts and broke the gathering up with a row. Fortunately no concealed weapons were drawn. And later a lady was arrested by the revenue officers while on her way to notify illicit distillers of their coming and held awhile before being released.

Our readers will remember that we had something to say about a negro being shot some time ago while stealing fodder down at Ed. McDonalds. The proof seems to rest pretty strong on a certain negro who lives about a mile off. We understand that he will be prosecuted by Mr. McDonald this week. This will be pretty bad, for has for years been a leading member of the church in his settlement and we believe at this time is an official member.

First National Bank of Gainesville vs. The Dahlonega Consolidated Co., J. W. Adams, H. D. Ingersoll, et al., complaint—verdict for plaintiff.

Flossie Curtis vs. Floyd Curtis, libel for divorce—final verdict.

The State vs. Robert Long charged with the murder of Henry Clark was taken up Wednesday and the following jury was selected: J. B. Adams, Robert L. London, F. L. Davis, L. M. Christy, H. W. S. Stringer, G. G. Evans, J. K. Bearden, R. Odum, Tom Stringer, W. H. Donaldson, James Anderson, (Smoking Jim) and Martin Bryan. The testimony and argument closed by night and the jury retired.

As we go to press the jury in the Long case has not agreed nor likely agree. The case against the Besleys has been sounded and only 9 jurors out of 72 have been selected. The grand jury returned a bill against the little thirteens year-old Besley boy, his father and two brothers, charged with the murder of Grindle and Holman in this county a few days ago, is the case referred to.

Later.—The jury has been filled in the Besley case except one and a bailiff has been sent out into the country for another juror, while the court has taken up other business.

A man who is too stingy to take his home paper would drink sassafras tea until he became so thin that he would not make a shadow. He would fill himself up with hot water and then try to cheat him self into belief that he had eaten a square meal. Truthfully says an exchange. Yet there are just such men in Lumpkin county, too stingy to give a nickel to get to heaven if they thought there was any chance to dead beat their way and go in the back way.

Mining Notes.

A few days ago a very rich vein was struck on what is known as the old "Buck" Howard place, now owned by Mr. Jones and a part of the Cavender's Creek mine. We saw a sample of this rich vein and the gold to be seen in the rock proves it to be worth several thousand dollars per ton.

Another successful clean up was made on the Calhoun a few days ago. The clean ups down there are like an endless chain system, makes one and it leads them on and on. Not with an imaginary expectation of undoubtedly "striking it rich" some time but they are mining for what is absolutely in sight, lot rich pockets come when they may. Mr. Maxwell is now engaged in placer mining on the Bruce property a mile from town with bright prospects for making money.

Mr. Packard is getting everything arranged for working the bed of the Chestatee river on his property. A test made shows the diggings to be very valuable.

The Consolidated is giving its special attention now to the Banning property and the ore continues good. The chlorination plant will finish working up all the sulphurets on hand this week. There are no changes at any of the other mines. All moving along as usual.

Cure Cold in Head.

Kermid's Cholesterol Lotion. It is easy to take and quick to cure cold in head and sore throat.

Curious Old Custom.

In one of the suburbs of Paris a wealthy merchant died the other day, and on the evening of the funeral his neighbors witnessed a curious ceremony.

An hour before the body was to be taken to the cemetery the relatives of the dead man, five or six in number, went out into the garden adjoining the house and walked solemnly and silently around it. Each carried a lantern kept his eyes fixed on the ground, as though he were looking for something. Finally they all halted in front of a large pile of stones, and laying aside their lanterns, proceeded to throw down the pile. After every stone had been removed they examined minutely the spot which the pile had rested, and then slowly, and with bowed heads, returned to the house.

This is an old Norman custom, and it was observed in this instance because the dead man was a native of Gison. There is a tradition in Normandy that before burying a body all the ground around his dwelling should be searched, in order to make sure that the soul had not hidden itself somewhere. At one time every family in Normandy faithfully observed this tradition, but now only a few pay heed to it.

Road Notice.

W. T. Butler and others having applied for the establishment of a new public road of the second class, to begin at the Ellijay road at the corner of Henry Chatten's fence and running in the direction of Dahlonega, by the residence of Henry Chatten, connecting with the Cane Creek road in the 303 district G. M. This is to notify all persons concerned that on and after the 1st Monday in May next said new road will be finally granted if no good cause to the contrary is shown. This the 24th day of April, 1902.
John Huff, Ordinary.

Stop My Paper.

Last Friday she came down the street three steps at a time and sailed into our office like a whirlwind. She waited for no ceremony, but wildly asked:

"Is this the paper printing office?"

"Yes, Madam."

"I want to stop my paper."

"All right, madam."

"Stop it now too."

"It's stopped," said the editor as he drew a blue mark across her husband's name on the subscription list.

"There now," she said, with a look of satisfaction in her eyes, "maybe this will teach you some horse sense and how to do the square thing next time, and not slight people because they are poor. If some rich, stuck up folks happen to have a bald-headed, knock-kneed, toothless brat born to them you're in an awful hurry to put it in the paper and make it out an angel, but when poor people have a baby you can't say a word about it, even if it is the prettiest baby that was ever born. That's what I'm stopping the paper for."

She marched out of the office as mad as a wet hen, and didn't say whether she had a baby or not."—Vernon Call.

The Moral Boundary Line.

There is a narrow line which separates virtues from vices, excellent qualities of character from ruinous faults, says the Saturday Evening Post. It is drawn straight through the point of moderation. There economy becomes miserliness, generosity becomes prodigality, prudence becomes cowardice and courage becomes rashness.

It is singular how many vices are simply the excess of virtues. Justice may run in severity and mercy into softness. Tolerance has not far to go to degenerate into absolute indifference and faith is easy carried into credulity, superstition.

Possibly it would hardly be correct to say that many people are too good, but it is a fact that many otherwise gracious and lovable souls are void of that which makes goodness itself to be desired—that is, moderation.

There must be a balance of virtues, a proper moral perspective. A man who is too straight leans over backward. The strenuous life is in danger of becoming the lawless, the violent. We argue subconsciously. "If a thing is good, the more the better." But too much freedom is license, too much exercise is wast, too much zeal is fanaticism too much light is blindness.—Ex.

The editor of the Huston (Iowa) Advocate claims that his town has three of the stingiest men on record. The first will not drink as much water as he wants unless it comes from a neighbors well. The second forbids any of his family writing any but a small hand, as it is a waste of ink to make large letters. The third stops the clock at night to save wear and tear of machinery. All of them refuse to take a newspaper on the ground that it is such a strain on the spectacles to read.

We thank our friends for the very liberal patronage we have received this week as well as at other times. We give the NUGGET our entire time and will use our best energy to please the public by giving them a paper that is well worth a dollar a year. We use no patent outside or stale plate matter.

The work on Dr. Head's new residence is being pushed.
